DAVID JAMESON TO BUILD NEW HOSPITAL FOR CITY

PROVIDES $600,000 FUND FOR BUILDING

FUND IS GIVEN TO MEET VITAL NEED SAYS MR. JAMESON

City Needs Hospital Badly At Present Time, And He Does Not Believe Community Could Finance It At Present Time, Hence He Is Providing Funds Needed—Hopes It Will Be Lasting Testimonial Of His Friendship Towards People Of New Castle.

In discussing the fund that he is providing for the erection of the new hospital for this city, with a News man, Mr. Jameson, in substance expressed his feeling in the matter as follows:

"I have lived in New Castle for 43 years. They have been in the main, happy years. I have known good fortune and ill fortune. I have known success and I have known defeat. When I came to New Castle such means as I possessed was already invested away from here, and it has come to pass that such fortune as I have accumulated has come largely from investments outside of New Castle. In that sense I may be said that I owe other places as much consideration as I owe New Castle.

"However, New Castle has been my home. Here, I and my family have lived and the special business to which I gave most of my personal attention is the bank which I helped to organize, located here.

"Here I went in and out among my fellow citizens and most of the friendships, which have so enriched my life were formed here. To New Castle I owe such duties as are incident to citizenship. I take it that each of us should try to make the town better for our having lived in it.

"In my studies and in my efforts to find the truth I have found opinions radically different from those of many of my fellow citizens. Notwithstanding these differences I have been the beneficiary of much kindness, courtesy and consideration, for which I have been most appreciative. I have tried from time to time as my means permitted, to give to the community some evidence of the friendly sentiments which I have entertained towards it. I have desired to give it some more permanent and lasting testimonial to the same end.

"It has been apparent to those who have given consideration to the subject that the city and county are in need of a new hospital to do the work heretofore done by the Shenango Valley Hospital. It has seemed to me that with the demands which have been made upon the community, it could hardly be expected to supply the funds needed for such an undertaking at this time. The amount required has been a matter of some speculation. The new hospital should be adequate for the present needs, but not anticipate the future to any great extent. The future could be taken care of by additions when needed. When the hospital has been built it must be maintained by the public. The cost of maintenance will be unduly increased if the size of the institution is much beyond the average needs of the community.

"The city of Butler has recently completed a 150 bed hospital known as the Butler Memorial Hospital. I am informed that the cost of construction was $425,000. It has seemed to me that a fund 40 per cent larger would be ample for New Castle. In many ways the equipment of the Shenango Valley Hospital has been kept up to date and much of it would be as good as could be obtained for the new institution.

"I am now willing to provide for the purpose outlined if so much shall be needed, a fund of $600,000 to be available as expenditures proceed.

"It has been suggested by others that the name of the new institution should be 'The Jameson Memorial Hospital' and that it should be for a memorial to Mrs. Jameson, myself and our family.

"I trust the name suggested will be regarded more as a matter of pride than of vanity. As the years pass and the institution works out its benign mission of mercy, charity, and love, exemplified in the alleviation of human suffering, may I not hope that it will sometimes arouse a friendly thought and kindly memory of me and mine."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 16.—Breaking into the customary Saturday holiday, a session of the preliminary hearing of Aimee Semple McPherson will be held today, the final day of the third week of the hearing.

Judge Blake ordered the session today for the purpose of giving the defense an opportunity to introduce Mrs. Gayle Koontz of Tucson, who will testify that she, and not the evangelist, sent a telegram from Gila Bend, Ariz., on June 13, ten days before Mrs. McPherson stumbled into Agua Prieta, claiming to have escaped from a desert shack.

Giant Airship Lands Safely At Lakehurst

Los Angeles Speeds Homeward With Storm Brewing And Outraces Nature

ABANDON FLIGHT TO YOUNGSTOWN

Giant Dirigible Maintained Average Of 70 Miles An Hour On Homeward Journey

(International News Service)
LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 16.—After a race across several states to avoid a storm brewing in the west, the Los Angeles, Giant navy dirigible, returned here safely at 4:40 a. m. today and was landed on the field by 6:50 a. m. It left Detroit yesterday afternoon at 8:40 o'clock and fled before the storm to the Hudson river valley where the big ship outdistanced it.

With the memory of the Shenandoah's fate in Ohio last year in mind, Lieutenant-Commander Rosendahl cast loose when he heard the storm was coming toward him.

Speeding eastward at seventy miles an hour the crew members wirelessed they were enjoying a chicken dinner furnished by the Ford Motor Company. The big ship passed over Buffalo at 9:30 o'clock and over Rochester at 10:25 last night.

Accomplishes Mission

Although the Los Angeles abbreviated its visit at Detroit by eighteen hours when the storm threat arose, its principal mission was completed when it was safely moored to the $100,000 mooring mast which had been especially built for it by Henry Ford at his private airport at Dearborn, Mich.

The dirigible was to have participated today in the dedication of a municipal airport at Youngstown, Ohio, named in memory of Lieut. Commander Zachary Lansdown, commander of the ill-fated Shenandoah, who lost his life with his ship in a storm over Ohio last year. At the approach of the storm today, which Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, commanding the Los Angeles, feared might prove similar to that which wrecked the Shenandoah, caused him to make a precipitate flight homeward.

Observe Rally Day In Epworth Church

Rally Day will be observed in the Epworth M. E. church by the Bible school Sunday morning. There will be a special musical program and an address by the pastor, Rev. S. L. Maxwell.

An effort is being made for all the classes of the Sunday school to have a perfect attendance on this occasion.

YOUNG GIRLS TIP OFF POLICE

(International News Service)
CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Oct. 16.—National guard troops, sheriff's officials and police early today surrounded a section of bottom land near here and began closing in on John and Montrose Hickman, of Pomeroy, who are alleged to have assassinated policeman Dan Garrett here yesterday.

The posse was formed after two girls, giving the names of Rosetta Doland, 16, Columbus, and Cleo Webb, Doanesville, were captured as they were leaving town. They admitted having lived here as the wives of the Hickman's and implicated their lovers, police say, in the killing.

Later the two were believed to have been seen skulking in the underbrush along the Scioto river, three miles southeast of here and national guard troops were assembled to take up the man hunt.

Garrett was killed when he accosted the two men in their automobile. He was seeking suspects in a holdup. He was shot down when he approached the pair.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Oct. 16—The steam trawler Pioneer, out of Boston for the Cape Cod fishing grounds, was swept by fire 12 miles off Nauset light early today but the crew of 18 officers and men escaped in dories.

An explosion in the engine room caused the fire which spread rapidly and the vessel was abandoned. The 18 men on the trawler were picked up in their open dories by the coast guardsmen from the Nauset station.

Oil City Woman Suicide Victim

(International News Service)
OIL CITY, Pa., Oct. 16.—Death today took its toll for the third time at Oil City's "tragedy house" when Mrs. Wallace M. Jennings, 23, was found, her throat slashed, in the bathroom of the house.

The house had been shunned by renters since a day four years ago when a couple residing there was found dead, the woman having been shot and the man having taken his own life.

Mrs. Jennings' body was found by one of her two small children. Her husband was absent from home.

NEW CASTLE CITIZEN TO ERECT FINE NEW HOSPITAL TO REPLACE SHENANGO VALLEY INSTITUTION

Building Will Be One Of 150-Bed Capacity To Be Erected On Site Just West Of Wilmington Avenue—Will Be Known As "Jameson Memorial Hospital"—Work To Be Pushed On New Structure—Organization To Be Incorporated To Be In Charge Of Building And Work Of Institution.

Coming as one of the most significant announcements in New Castle in many years is that made public today that David Jameson of North Jefferson street, for many years New Castle's leading citizen, president of the Citizens' National Bank, has provided a fund of $600,000 for immediate use, for the erection of a magnificent new hospital in this city, to replace the Shenango Valley hospital.

The new hospital which will be one of at least 150 bed capacity, will be erected at once, on a site which is now under option for purchase, just west of Wilmington avenue, and including 34 city lots in the area bounded by Leasure and Garfield avenues.

The Jameson Memorial Hospital

The new hospital will be erected as the "The Jameson Memorial Hospital," and will be presented to the public as a memorial to Mr. Jameson and his family. Mr. Jameson in speaking of the project said that he had for some time been considering the situation, and that he believes that a new hospital is one of the greatest needs of the city at the present time. Not believing that it would be wise to attempt to raise a fund large enough to build a hospital of the nature needed to replace the Shenango Valley hospital by popular subscription, he has informed the officers of the Shenango Valley hospital that he will provide a fund of $600,000 for the immediate erection of a new building such as will meet all needs of such an institution.

Will Have 150 Beds

The new hospital will be one of approximately 150 beds. It is the conclusion of Mr. Jameson that it will be wiser for New Castle to build an institution that will meet the average needs at this time, and arrange to build additions in the future than to overbuild at the present time and have the added cost of yearly maintenance that this would entail. The new hospital at Butler is one of 150 bed capacity and cost approximately $425,000. Mr. Jameson believes that a fund 40 per cent larger should provide for an institution of such size and completeness as is needed to replace the Shenango Valley hospital at this time, and his fund which has been established for the new hospital will be of that size, approximately $600,000.

To Incorporate at Once

Application is being made to the Lawrence County court for incorporation of the organization to direct the affairs of the new hospital, and to take care of erection of the building, the organization to be known as "The Jameson Memorial Hospital Association."

In the application for incorporation, the purpose of the incorporation is outlined as follows:

The corporation is formed for the purpose recited, to provide medical and surgical aid, nursing and care for sick and injured, indigent persons. While this is the purpose of incorporation, in the execution of that purpose it may secure a portion of the costs of providing such service by reasonable charge for the care of patients able to pay, provided, however, no part of the net earnings of this corporation shall inure to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual, but such earnings, if any, shall be used for the betterment of the service. Also, the purpose of the corporation shall be to provide and maintain a training school for nurses and to issue certificates and diplomas, evidencing the educational work done and the standing attained by the students therein.

Stockholders and Trustees

The persons who are named as stockholders in the corporation to have charge of its affairs are: Mrs. Jessie A. Jameson, Mrs. Elizabeth J. McCreary, John H. Lamb, Fred L. Rentz, Thomas F. Morehead, Chester P. Reynolds, Thurman C. Post, Edwin F. Norris, J. Norman

HOWARD D. SAVAGE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—Howard P. Savage of Chicago on the 22nd ballot Friday was elected national commander of the American Legion, succeeding John R. McQuigg of Ohio in one of the hardest fights the boys have ever staged.

The break to Savage was most dramatic. Midway in the taking of the 22nd ballot, Col. J. Munroe Johnson of South Carolina took the platform and withdrew his name. He was followed immediately by Thomas Amory Lee of Kansas and Jay Williams of South Dakota, the latter moving that Savage's nomination be made unanimous, and the crowd went wild.

It's a long way until Christmas, till the bankroll is socked in the nose; it's a long time till we start to exchange presents of perfume and hose. But it isn't too early to start to think of the presents we're going to buy; it isn't too early to start to save for that picture or knitted tie, for the lad who doesn't will find himself with a bankroll of modest mean, for presents require a lot of the stuff we jestingly call the green. Believe Capture Of Mail Robbers In Jersey Near

State Troopers Form Cordon Around Area Where Bandits Are Hiding

EXPECT BATTLE WITH BANDITS

Identify Two Of Gang As New York Gunmen; Question Woman In Robbery

(International News Service)

BOUND BROOK, N. J., Oct. 16.—The spectacular hunt for the eight machine gun bandits who killed one man and wounded two others in the $150,000 mail robbery Thursday morning at Elizabeth, N. J., today had narrowed to a small area around Chimney Rock, two miles from here.

As seventy-five state troopers, comprising the advance guard of 500 armed men who are participating in the most extensive man hunt ever made in the east, closed in on the corner of the Watchung mountains where the bandits are believed to be hiding, a battle appeared imminent today.

Citizens Flee

If the desperadoes are located in this area, twenty miles long and three miles wide, the battle will be fought on the field where General "Light Horse Harry" Lee retreated under British fire shortly before the battle of Princeton 150 years ago. Hundreds of wealthy residents of the community, fearing they will be mowed down by the bandits' machine gun fire, have fled from their homes.

Major Mark Kimberling will fly over the hemmed-in area in a plane today and if he finds any clew of the bandits, 2,000 militiamen will be thrown into the battle at nightfall.

The present attacking force of 500 men includes more than 100 state troopers, another 100 policemen from neighboring towns, members of the New York and Philadelphia police Departments and several hundred volunteers, mainly war veterans. They are equipped with rifles, gas bombs and hand grenades.

Two Members Identified

Two members of the bandit gang have been identified by witnesses of the mail robbery as James J. ("Killer") Cunniffe and "Bum" Rodgers, New York gunmen. Rewards for the capture of the desperadoes total $20,000.

Three men, Frank Barra, 26, William Syms, 30, and Lee McRitchie, all of Elizabeth, are being held as materal witnesses in connection with the crime.

It was learned that state troopers are questioning the sweetheart of one of the bandits. The troopers refused to reveal her identity.

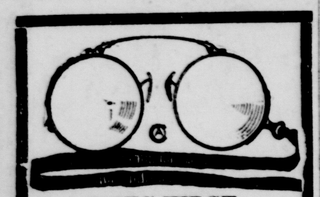

Federal authorities were assisting in the case today. In Elizabeth ten postal inspectors led by Rush D. Simmons, inspector in charge at Washington D. C., were perfecting an organization which will endeavor to solve the crime.

NEW CASTLE CITIZEN TO ERECT FINE NEW HOSPITAL

The twelve trustees who are named to serve for the first year are the same as the stockholders named above.

Immediately upon the granting of incorporation papers to The Jameson Memorial Hospital Aassociation which will be the matter of a few weeks, this organization will begin work upon plans for erecting the new hospital. At the present time the tentative ideas of the hospital are in view, but have not been definitely acted upon. The exact size of the building, its architectural design, etc., will be worked out in the near future, so that the contract for erection of the building can be awarded soon.

Purchase New Site

The need of this new hospital has been apparent to Mr. Jameson for some time. He has long been interested in the Shenango Valley hospital, and for a number of years was president of the board of trustees, and months ago had representatives make an effort to purchase additional property in the immediate vicinity of the Shenango Valley hospital, with a view to using that site for the new building. As the matter developed some of the properties in the district were purchased at a reasonable figure, but some others which were needed, were not procurable at what was deemed a fair sum, and the project of building on the present Shenango Valley hospital site was abandoned, and new sites looked for.

Most Available Location

Three suitable plots were optioned during the course of the search for the site, and among the properties was the one which is to be used, that located west of Wilmington avenue, between Leasure and Garfield avenues. This property which is an area of about 5 acres, is the highest land in that entire section of the city, gives a most adaptable site for the hospital, and one that is in quiet section, yet easily reached. There is plenty of ground to allow for future expansion of the hospital. It is probable that the main entrance to the building will be facing Leasure avenue, with the rear toward Garfield avenue. There are a number of houses along Wilmington avenue which would interfere with use of Wilmington avenue as the front of the hospital structure.

May Sell Old Building

Under the plan now accepted for building the new hospital on a new site, it is believed that a considerable sum can be secured for the Shenango Valley hospital building when it is abandoned. If the old site had been used for the new building, the structure would have been razed, but as it is, the building will be disposed of. It is likely that it will be sold, and remodelled for use as an apartment house building. With some remodelling it would serve well for this purpose it is believed.

As some of Mr. Jameson's intimate friends have been aware, he has been giving attention to the idea of building this hospital for the people of New Castle for some months. It is characteristic of Mr. Jameson that such a plan should be uppermost in his mind. He has ever been a citizen who has held New Castle and her interests at heart, and it is his sincere desire to do something that will bring a measure of comfort and benefit to the people as a whole. The hospital is his idea of such a move, and he is now providing the fund needed to make such a benefaction a reality.

Gift Is Appreciated

There is nothing that could be suggested that would fill a greater humanitarian need in this city at the present time that a modern hospital building to carry on the work which has been so nobly done during many years past by the Shenango Valley institution, and Mr. Jameson's gift to the public at this time will stir a most grateful response on the part of the people of New Castle, whom it is to serve.

Hon. George T. Weingartner, an experienced builder, is president of the board of directors of the Shenango Valley hospital at the present time, and will be in active charge of the arrangements to be made by the officers of the new hospital board for the erection of the institution, it is anticipated. The board of trustees of the new "Jameson Memorial Hospital Association," is the same as that now in charge of the Shenango Valley hospital, with the exception that there are three additional members these being, Mrs. Jessie A. Jameson, Mrs. Elizabeth J. McCreary and John H. Lamb.

Present Hospital 85 Beds

The Shenango Valley hospital at the present time is rated as an institution which has an 85 bed capacity. So it will be seen that the plans tentatively considered for the erection of the new hospital are for a hospital with nearly twice the capacity of the present institution. It will be modern in every way, and will be as well equipped as it is possible to equip an institution of this sort.

In connection with the fund for the erection of the new hospital, it is known by Mr. Jameson's friends that his interest in the Crippled Children's clinic, which has been maintained as an adjunct to the Rotary club, at the Shenango Valley hospital for some years past, was one of the factors that influenced him in his decision to build the new hospital. Mr. Jameson was one of the persons first interested in this humanitarian work in New Castle, and his association with it has impressed upon him strongly the need of the most adequate hospital service possible.

There will be no delay in having the actual work of building the hospital started. Mr. Jameson, in discussing the matter, said, "The sooner the work of erecting the building is started the better it will suit me." It will be the aim of the board of trustees of the new institution to have the work of erection of the new building, pushed just as rapidly as is possible.

In connection with the hospital, a suitable home will be provided for the nurses who are located or may be employed at the hospital.

Identify "Miss X" In Case Against Aimee McPherson

Judge Bardin Declares Mrs. Viria Kimball Mysterious Woman In Case

WOMAN MAINTAINS SHE IS INNOCENT

(International News Service)

SALINAS, Cal., Oct. 16.—Judge J. A. Bardin, after a face-to-face meeting with Mrs. Viria Kimball of Oakland, sister of Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff, co-defendant in the Aimee Semple McPherson conspiracy case, today declared the Oakland woman was the mysterious "Miss X".

Mrs. Kimball went to Salinas to face Bardin and Russell Scott, notary public, before whom the "Miss X" sought to establish herself as the companion of Kenneth G. Ormiston at the Carmel cottage. The woman signed an affidavit to that effect when she appeared before Bardin and Scott.

Mrs. Sielaff and her sister have both maintained that the "Miss X" was a Miss Rachel Wells of Philadelphia, and the former charges Mrs. McPherson with having offered her money to persuade Miss Wells to play the hole.

Scott, however, did not identify Mrs. Kimball as "Miss X". He declared there was a resemblance between her and the woman who made out the affidavit, but said he would make no positive statement.

Mrs. Kimball today again denied that she was the woman who made the affidavit before Hardy and Scott.

Discover Way To Drop Mail From Flying Airplane

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 16—An apparatus which will enable mailbags to be delivered from airplanes without landing and to be dropped safely from considerable heights has been invented after years of experimenting by Herr Kunzer, a Swiss engineer.

The apparatus consists of a metal sheath, containing in the upper part a folded parachute and in the lower a clockwork movement. The mailbag is affixed to the bottom of the appartus, and the pilot sets the clockwork according to the height at which he is flying, so that when he throws the bag overboard the parachute is timed to open some 150 to 100 yards from the ground.

Tests have been made from a height of 3,000 feet with complete success.

Minnesota Puts O. K. On Students Owning Flivvers

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 16.—Collegiate flivvers shall not be barred from the University of Minnesota campus.

This announcement by E. E. Nicholson dean of student affairs set at rest the fears of college boys who have labored all summer in developing their hand painted autos for use this fall and winter.

"There are too many student automibiles" Dean Nicholson said but we cannot legislate against them because too many students need their cars in coming to and from school.'

So although Ohio State, Illinois, Wisconsin and other universities have barred students from using their autos the collegiate flivver will survive in Minnesota.

Conspiracy Charges Filed Against Officials Of Pittsburgh Bank.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—Informations charging conspiracy were filed here today against three officials of the Brotherhood Savings & Trust company, a labor bank, and two others before Alderman A. M. Maloney in connection with the disappearance of between $320,000 and $425,000, part of which belonged to the bank.

R. A. McCready, president of the bank, Charles E. Knapp, a bond salesman, accused by McCready of disappearing with the money; William Kelly, vice president; J. L. Nelson, treasurer, and Frank Redman, who introduced McCrady to Knapp, were named in the informations.

Meanwhile, the men named, with the exception of Knapp, for whom a nationwide search has been launched, were subjected to a grilling by representatives of the state banking department and city detectives who sought to learn more about the transaction through which the men under arrest said they were to receive $800,000 worth of bonds for $425,000.

On Way Down River With Captives, Boat Is Damaged, Youths Escape

(International News Service)

MONESSEN, Pa., Oct. 16.—Two youths, giving their names as Robert Kyle and Norman Watson, both of Charleroi, escaped today from a captive "Booze Navy", consisting of a yacht, a houseboat and a small skiff, which Federal Prohibition Agent Paul L. Stone was taking to Pittsburgh.

Stone captured the "booze navy", and arrested the youths yesterday in the Monongahela river, near Brownsville, after confiscating a 50-gallon still, five barrels of mash and twelve gallons of moonshine.

He had started up the river, intending to take his captives and their navy to Pittsburgh, where court action could be taken by federal authorities. Engine trouble developed in the flagship of the "fleet", however, when the party reached a point about a mile below Monessen.

Stone put into shore to investigate the trouble, and as he did so Kyle and Watson escaped. The dry agent went to Monongahela where he notified authorities of surrounding towns to be on the lookout for the youths.

State President Of Service Star Here

Mrs. O. F. Dieffenbacher Of Clarion, Pa., Makes Address At Meeting Of Local Chapter.

Mrs. O. F. Dieffenbacher of Clarion, Pa., state president of the Service Star Legion, was present at the meeting of the local Service Star Legion Thursday evening in its hall in the city building.

Mrs. Dieffenbacher's address consisted mainly in giving the important topics discussed at the national convention held in LaCross, Wis., recently and outlining the work for the coming year. She also stressed the importance of relief work among our disabled ex-service men.

The chapter was requested to stand and offer a silent prayer in memory of the Gold Star sons and daughters and their relatives who still live to honor their memory.

The meeting was opened by using the ceremonial and singing America. A short program followed which included a vocal solo by Miss Helen Allen, accompanied by Miss Grace Patterson, and a duet by Edna and Helen Shaffer and a piano solo by Edna Shaffer.

A reception for new members was a special feature of the evening.

Refreshments were served and a social hour followed. At this time Mrs. Dieffenbacher showed pictures of the national convention.

Movie Star To Be "Gentleman Farmer"

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 16.—Douglas Fairbanks is to become a "gentleman farmer". He has purchased an 800-acre ranch in the hill country 30 miles from San Diego, describing the location as an hour by airplane from his Hollywood motion picture studio.

The property is to be developed as a hacienda. The tract will be planted to citrus orchards, alfalfa and stocked with cattle.

The property was purchased from the Rancho Santa Fe and will involve an expenditure of $500,000. Development plans include construction of a private golf course and swimming pool.

Assign Secret Service Operative To Guard Son Of President Coolidge

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass., Oct. 16.—John Coolidge, son of the President, was the center of a crowd of bantering students on Amherst College campus this forenoon.

"Where's the bodyguard, John?" inquired one of John's classmates, referring to Colonel Edward W. Starling of the United States secret service, who has been assigned to guard the son of the chief executive.

"Oh, he only works nights", John shouted back.

"What about the threatening letters written by the crank? What's the big idea of the night guard, John?" put in another student.

"I guess dad's afraid I'll get married or do something rash like that—that's all there is to it", replied young Coolidge laughingly.

The President's son took the matter of a bodyguard good-naturedly, saying he didn't mind having the colonel along after night at all.

Nominate Officers For State W. C. T. U.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 16.—Nominations for officers of the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U. for 1927 were made today by the 400 delegates in attendance at the fifty-second annual convention here. Nominations were made by ballot and the results will not be made known until later. The election will be held Monday.

The reports of Mrs. Ella B. Black, of Beaverdale, state W. C. T. U. treasurer, and Mrs. Ruth Porter Wynn, Tyrone, superintendent of humane education, featured the forenoon session.

Mrs. Black reported that twenty-two counties made gains in membership in the last year, and that thirty-nine counties won prizes for excellent work. In the last year $29,300 was received in the treasury, and $27,993 was paid out by the organization.

New members for the year totaled 2,080, while twenty-one life members were added to the rolls. Allegheny county continued to lead the state in membership with 2,530.

The organization contributed $1,302 to the Frances Willard Memorial fund, the treasurer reported.

Motorists Must Obey Stop Signs

In spite of all efforts of the police department to put a stop to the violation of the main thoroughfare stop sign regulations in this city, motorists of the city and others are persistently crossing main thoroughfares without making the required stop, Chief of Police Henry Dysart stated this morning.

Numerous offenders have been ordered into police court and have paid the fine of $1 and then gone out and did the same thing over again.

Chief Dysart stated this morning, that in the hope that the regulation might become more effective in the future, that the fines for this offense in the future would range from $2 to $5 according to the circumstances surrounding each case.

MR. JAMESON'S GIFT TO CITY

NEW CASTLE will receive with a feeling of deep appreciation, the announcement made in this issue of The News, that David Jameson, long a leading citizen of New Castle is providing a fund of $600,000 for the immediate erection of a fine new hospital in this city, to replace the Shenango Valley hospital and carry on the work that has been done by this institution.

It has long been recognized that the Shenango Valley hospital needed enlarging or replacing, and at a number of times the matter of raising the funds needed for such action has been considered by New Castle citizens.

The action of Mr. Jameson in providing the fund for the erection of the new building comes at a time when it is most fitting and most appreciated.

In taking this step, Mr. Jameson is actuated by no other motive than that of doing something that will be a matter of permanent and lasting benefit to his fellow man and the people of his home community.

It is well known to some New Castle citizens that Mr. Jameson has aided many enterprises of a humanitarian nature in this city in years past, unbeknown to the general public, and this benefaction is but characteristic of his kindly feeling toward all that has been manifested through the many years of his lifetime in New Castle.

Naming the institution the "Jameson Memorial Hospital" is an entirely fitting honor to the man who is making it possible, a fitting honor to his family, but it is not being done at the suggestion of Mr. Jameson. There is no idea of any tribute to himself in the unselfish action taken in providing this magnificent institution for the city of New Castle.

This city has always honored and respected Mr. Jameson. It has recognized his sympathetic and unselfish attitude, his desire to help his fellow man. The decision to provide the large fund needed to carry out this humanitarian work is one that will bring a large measure of gratification to Mr. Jameson and his family. It will likewise be a blessing to the community that cannot be overestimated.

Truly it can be said, a city looks to Mr. Jameson with sincere appreciation of his wonderful gift to the public.

It is a noble tribute on the part of Mr. Jameson of his feeling towards his fellow man.

FOR ALL OF US

ABOUT all that most of us can do is our daily tasks, attend to our family duties, our church, and have some little time for recreation.

Taking care of those who are less unfortunate, helping the fellow who is down to get back on his feet, and seeing that the hungry are fed, is a job that most of us are more than willing to let some one else do.

Here in New Castle we have an organization that has taken over in a splendid way, the tasks for which the most of us have so little time. It is the City Rescue Mission, the organization that is "Everlastingly At It" and tomorrow, Sunday, October 17, you and I are going to be asked to provide the funds by which the Mission can operate for the coming 12 months.

It's our job to see that the Mission gets these funds. Our job to finance an organization which in one year held 598 religious services, gave out 717 meals to the hungry, 445 beds to the down and outers, 70 bushels of provisions at the holiday times, and taken care of a host of sad cases.

The more we give, the more service can the Mission render. You and I haven't the time to attend to such matters personally, but we can assist in helping E. J. Berquist, superintendent of the Mission in doing so.

You should have a share in the contributions tomorrow. Small or large, you should help to pay for the work you cannot do yourself.

Remember that, "inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

The Locarno pact was signed by representatives of the five nations that are parties to it.

It has come to a point where New Jersey points with pride to the fact that more witnesses have been found to the Hall-Mills murder than California has called to explain the Aimee McPherson movements.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:19. Sun rises tomorrow 6:13.

One nice thing can be said about most ever election, and that is they silence for all time some political nuisance.

A lot of down town traffic would be relieved if a lot of people who live only a few blocks from the center of the activities would walk instead of pushing their busses thru the throng. Some people will not walk a block any more.

We have noticed that in the numerous sensational newspaper accounts of beautiful woman being found dead in many parts of this country that they are always mostly without any clothes on. It is quite apparent that they do not put on a lot of clothes just to get killed in.

A few nights ago some low down son of an owl smeared grease all over the automobile of a man on the North Hill. This evidently was fun to this ill bred half baked crook. How can any one think kindly of such a thing, or parents who would let degenerate like that run at large at night.

Any town is a good town to the man who gets a cheerful grin from the paying teller.

We are told that locusts will infest part of the country next year. As long as we can remember, and that is some time, we have been told of the 17-year-locusts and what they would do next summer, and to date we have yet to see anything locusts have done that would cause half the disgust that the pre-hallowe'en rioting does.

Every once in a while some breezy bird floats into The News office and as an opener tells us of a wonderful proposition he has to tell us about and it will only take five minutes. After yapping about half an hour he springs a book selling proposition and assures you only a few people in the city will have the privilege of buying them. Not one of those guys has ever sold us a book yet just because they try to fool us.

What makes it the mighty dollar is because it is so mighty hard to get.

Perhaps it might not be a bad thing in these days when jurors are selected for the trying of booze cases to ask them if they or any of their relatives are engaged in the likker business.

We read of a lady who could not get a hat to fit her on account of her long hair, so she had it bobbed. It was five feet nine inches long and weighs one pound and three ounces. No wonder she could not get a hat on a thatch like that. In fact she would not need a hat. Anyhow, we are betting she feels better now.

Hereafter the names of Pullman car porters will be displayed prominently in their cars. This will mean that the porters will not be called so many names.

The mother of a nine-year-old school girl in a city in this country is suing the school board because they will not allow her child to attend school clad in blomers. We will have to be with the school board in that case.

A lady in Pittsburgh lost a suit against a surgeon for twenty thousand dollars whom she accused of cutting a nerve on her face in an operation which caused her mouth to become twisted and prevented her from seeing out of one eye and to lose control of one side of her face. A lot of people might think she was lucky to be alive instead of suing for damages. The jury evidently thought that.

A South Side lady said yesterday that the ice man had been giving her short weight ever since her maid and the ice man had a scrap. Eliza crossed the ice, but the maid crossed the ice man.

Grammer school pupils can't help but wonder how politicians can tell who the next president will be when they can't even remember the names of those who have been.

When you appeal to a man's reason you may be appealing to something that ain't.

Thirty-four boys were arrested in a city in this state for pulling off a lot of rough pre-hallowe'en stuff. That is the proper system to follow in every city where outlaws practice their vocation.

When a fellow tells a girl "You're the most wonderful thing in the world" he's taking in more territory than he realizes.

Forty-one men were tried before a Pittsburgh magistrate a few days ago for their first offense for drunkeness. That don't look a bit good.

Those Community Dinner tickets sold faster than we ever thought they would. It was quite a pleasant shock to realize that the people to that number were interested so quickly. Thousands will be disappointed now it seems. Tickets will be at a premium. One guy asked us five dollars for four of them yesterday.

Tomorrow is Rescue Mission Day in the churches of New Castle. The mission does a great work and Mr. Berquist expects you to do your part in helping him get the funds to carry on the work for the next year.

We have noticed that most all of the organizations that set forth the claim that they are non-political, take a fierce interest in politics, just the same.

Constructive criticism is always as helpful as blind fault finding is destructive. The Knocker who uses only a hammer and offers no remedy is as useful as the Bimbo who would throw a grindstone to a drowning Gazabo.

Those of us who have registered preparatory to voting this fall will likely come in for a lot of criticism about the result of the vote from the great crowd who haven't registered.

A certain Pennsylvania town has a citizen 73 years of age who has spent 43 of those years away from home in prisons and he says he would rather be in prison than in his own home town. That is sort of rought on the town, but the town can come back and say that it would rather have him in prison than at home.

Aimee McPherson is not the first person to go away on a vacation and wish on her return that she had stayed on the regular job.

No matter what the other crop conditions may be, the average man finds it always a poor year to raise mortgages.

Speaking of five-day weeks, what is the housewife going to do about it?

Again we are told that the Prince of Wales is to wed. This time it is a daughter of the King of Spain who is to be his bride. We haven't heard what the Prince has to say in the matter, but perhaps that isn't very much. But at riding horses he's a good tumbler.

Tomorrow is Rescue Mission day in the churches and throughout the city. The Mission is an institution that has proven its worth thousands of times and is a fine chance for the "home missionary boys" to contribute liberally. Be sure and do not only your share, but the share of some other person who isn't able or won't do it. Give and give again.

You have to take your hat off to the flapper, after all. Vital statistics show that since the advent of the flapper the death rate has gone down and the birth rate has gone up. The flapper mother seems to be a fixture in this country.

Queen Marie of Roumania says she will eat American food while in this country ,and we'd like to see her the first time she bows before a plate of corned beef and cabbage.

"Suppose, Mr. Speeder."
Suppose that your child should leave his own yard
For a romp, or in search of a ball,
If its mother were busy or had not the time
To step out and give it a call;
Suppose that some speeder should race down your street,
As though he were taking a dare,
And crush the life out of your little child—
Mr. Speeder do you think you would care

Suppose that your mother were crossing the street—
Your mother now feeble and old—
And some reckless driver should knock her aside,
Leaving her lifeless and cold.
Could you find an excuse for this careless act?
Would you really think it were fair?
Now, putting yourself in this fellow's place,
Mr. Speeder, do you think you
would care?

Suppose that a loved one you hold very dear
Were the victim of some speeder's game,
And he lay in his bed, just day after day,
All crippled and helpless and lame;
Suppose that he never could walk any more,
No longer your pleasure could share,
Just lie there and sufer day in and day out,
Mr. Speeder, do you think you would care?

Oh! how little you think of the other man's pain
In your lawless pleasure and greed;
How little you care what it costs someone else
When you drive at your daredevil speed.
Should this trouble occur in your family some day,
For you and your loved ones to share,
You'll lessen your speed and you'll take time to think—
And then Mr. Speeder you'll care.

And many a man who thinks he is a cynic has confidence in a bootlegger's guarantee.

What some men need more than setting-up exercises is getting up ambition.

No More Primary?
Facing Destruction.
Wet, Dry, Part Wet.

Vice President Dawes thinks the direct primary should be abolished.

In its place would come the old convention and candidates selected by political bosses.

On the whole, the direct primary is the better plan. Sometimes you cannot buy the voters. You can always buy the bosses, and they are cheaper than direct primary buying.

What does the public gain by enabling a rich man to buy his seat in the senate more cheaply?

Andrew Furuseth, head of the seamen's union, a fine old sailor, says unions "face destruction" at the hands of the courts, and suggests "it may be necessary for us to tell courts that enjoin us we refuse to answer your questions, we refuse to recognize you," etc.

Mr. Furuseth is earnest and honest, and labor unions, compelling employers to pay decent wages, have in past times been powerful in increasing general prosperity.

But those unions really will "face destruction" on the day they decide to overrule the courts. That must be done only through the ballot box, not in the back room of any labor union or corporation.

In New York's Democratic club, including all good Tammany men, a 30-gallon still for manufacturing whisky is discovered in the cellar, most appropriately.

Indignation is aroused by the size of the still, only a 30-gallon still. The club has thousands of members. Thirty gallons is ridiculous.

Mrs. Sarah Fanandes, aged 37, quarreled with her husband Theodore, and to prove her point jumped down the dumb waiter shaft shouting "here I go".

He shouted after her, "I am on my way down, too," and jumped, landing, very much like a man on his wife's unconscious body. They are both in the hospital, may recover and live to be reconciled.

A German scientist has photographed the inside of a human stomach, using blue light. If some men, 90 per cent, could have such a photograph taken, after dinner, it would horrify them.

Irving Fisher, Yale professor, bets $10 to $1 that this will be a nation of octogenarians by the end of the century.

That prediction is no exaggeration. Men, one day, will live habitually to be 140 years. But with a life average of 80 years only, it will be necessary to revise various things, including the age at which men marry.

Population would soon become unwieldly if a race of octogenarians married at 20 or 25 years of age and went on having children for half a century. Nature, however, would find a way to take care of that. She always does.

OUR MOST DANGEROUS—

Day is the one on which we complete our masterpiece.
Friend is the one who tells us our second best is good enough.
Enemy may be our friend who knows the most about us.
Dollar is the one we got without earning it.
Moment is the one when our loyalty to a friend conflicts with loyalty to duty.
Ambition is the one that ignores our conscience.
Amusement is the one that leaves us less fit for work.

Bible Thought For Today

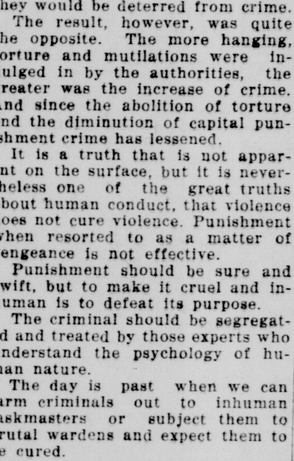

OUR FATHER LOVES US—"Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man chasteneth his son, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee." Deut. 8:5.

Senator Frederick H. Gillett of Massachusetts, who is in line for congratulations today on his 75th birthday anniversary, is now the oldest member of congress in point of continuous service. His career in the the national lawmaking body dates back to 1893, when he became Republican floor leader in the 65th congress and was honored with the speakership of the 68th congress. Mr. Gillett is a lawyer by profession, Amherst college giving him his literal and Harvard his professional education. He had an eminent lawyer for a father and naturally his thought turned toward law and politics, in which latter field he first experimented by sitting in the Massachusetts legislature. From the beginning of his career he has been a consistent supporter of the merit system of civil service, and a foe of graft and "pork" appropriation bills.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

HOW TO CHECK CRIME

Mr. Netley Lucas, a young British criminologist, says that fear alone can give society a safeguard, and that the best way to cure the crime wave in the United States is to resort to corporal punishment.

This is a restatement of an old point of view that happily is dying out.

Physical pain as a deterrent to crime used to be resorted to as a matter of course. In the middle ages they used the rack, and the boot, hung them up by their thumbs, and busily plied the cat-o'-nine tails.

Thus by throwing the fear of God into the offenders it was thought they would be deterred from crime.

The result, however, was quite the opposite. The more hanging, torture and mutilations were indulged in by the authorities, the greater was the increase of crime. And since the abolition of torture and the diminution of capital punishment crime has lessened.

It is a truth that is not apparent on the surface, but it is nevertheless one of the great truths about human conduct, that violence does not cure violence. Punishment when resorted to as a matter of vengeance is not effective.

Punishment should be sure and swift, but to make it cruel and inhuman is to defeat its purpose.

The criminal should be segregated and treated by those experts who understand the psychology of human nature.

The day is past when we can farm criminals out to inhuman taskmasters or subject them to brutal wardens and expect them to be cured.

The indiscriminate use of force and the inhuman application of pain does not cure the criminal, but arouse in him the spirit of vengeance.

It remains true that they who take the sword shall perish by the sword.

Intelligence, and not violence, is the best cure for crime.

FICTION.

One bright summer morning, just about dinner time, Hobo Jim entered the premises of Mrs. Toughdial. As he neared the house he caught a glimpse of the lady's face, whereupon his prospects for a "hand-out" immediately faded. Being nimble of mind, he put into play one of his never-failing tricks—he fell on the lawn and began devouring the grass. Out came Mrs. Toughdial and demanded "What's the idea?" "O, kind lady," said Jim, "I'm so hungry, I haven't eaten for three days!" "Well, well, my poor man," returned the lady, "when you're through with the lawn we've a ten-acre field back yonder."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A NEW COLOSSUS.

Germany had its Stiness and now Belgium has it Lowenstein. Mr Lowenstein is a great banker, and industrialist of Belgium. He started out in life with a large private fortune, left to him by his father. He has increased this tremendously. Today he owns a great fleet of ships sailing the seas, and another great fleet of airplanes navigating the air. He owns probably the controlling interest in Brazilian Tractions, Barcelona Hydro Electric, and several companies operating in Mexico. He also has great interests in Africa, besides his Belgian properties. He is in Belgium today, in Russia tomorrow, and back in Paris the next day, to flit away to Spain, across to London, and back home. He is the most interesting figure in Europe at the present time. When entertaining his friends at Voisin's, in Paris, he has fresh caviar brought from Russia by airplane, and poulards from Toulouse. He has a fine country mansion, and a big stable of race horses at Melton Mowbray in England. He is often seen at the races, and his horses are winners. During the War he fought with the Belgian Army. He also served in the British Ministry of Food and financed several farming experiments.

His schemes are both colossal and fantastic, and the most fantastic is his latest proposition. He proposes to combine all of his great companies into a large Trust, and to add to their number and in order to secure fresh capital he is offering a loan of fifty million dollars to Belgium and one hundred million dollars to France. The Belgian loan is to be without interest, while France is to pay two per cent. In return for this accommodation, Belgium and France are to allow him to print franc notes to the amount of the loans, and all the new money thus created, he pledges shall be used to finance new industrial companies. In this way, he says Belgium and France will profit by the new industries which he will create. He actually proposes to take charge of French and Belgium finances. He is practically to take over the mints. He is to coin money, and regulate the Exchange, and he is to retain control of all the industries that are financed for the new money.

If Mr. Lowenstein had not been so successful, if his industries had not been so unusually successful, if he was not a man of such dynamic personalty, the world might simply say "Piffle" to this proposition. To bankers in general, such a scheme seems only to be one of inflation for the personal benefit of Mr. Lowenstein, but Mr. Lowenstein says he can prevent the depreciation of the franc because of the creation of new industries. He is quoted as saying, "I am out to beat the Peace Profiteers."

Mr. Lowenstein has had a picturesque and stormy career, but no stormy Petrel of Finance ever proposed a more daring thing.

ADAM AND EVE

Said Eve to Adam: "All fruits we've tried
Except the ones of the tree denied.
I can't for the life of me understand Why the good Lord issued that strange command.
If one of those apples we choose to take What possible difference could it make?"
"I wouldn't", said Adam, "the Lord said not."
Eve answered: "We'll tell him that we forgot.
Besides if we leave it that fruit will rot."

"Forget it!" said Adam. "We've fruit to waste."
"I know", answered Eve, "but I want to taste
Of the tree denied, be it sour or sweet,
It's that one apple I want to eat.
I'd never have given it a thought, if he Had not forbidden us that single tree."
"Apples are apples", said Adam,
the tame,
"Why bother for one when they're all the same?"
Said Eve: "Let's try it, I'll take the blame?"

Whatever on earth could poor Adam do?
His wife was set on the fruit, he knew.
He could argue against it both day and night.
But he knew he was doomed for that fatal bite.
He could show her fair apples on every side.
But she'd still insist on the fruit denied.
That act forbid she was bound to do.
She would eat of that fruit though she died, he knew,
And I fancy the good Lord knew it, too.

POEMS HOVE BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"On A Mercenary Army," by A. E. Housman.

I found this war poem in the London Times during 1918. It is not included in Housman's last volume. Much criticism had been made by the British pacifists of what they termed England's little "mercenary army." Roused to righteous wrath, the quiet poet who wrote the undying "Shropshire lad" gave these eight lines as his provoked answer to a minority group.

These, in the day when heaven was falling,
The hour when earth's foundations fled,
Followed their mercenary calling,
And took their wages, and are dead.

Their shoulders held the world suspended,
They stood, and earth's foundations stay.
What God abandoned, these defended,
And took the sum of things for pay.

Police To Put Stop To Work Of Gang's Hallowe'en Stunts

Mayor Dunlap and Police Chief Dysart are highly incensed concerning the damage being done by boys and young men who are causing unlimited annoyance to residents and today they sounded obvious warning that unless there is an immediate cessation of property destruction arrests and fines will result.

"It is the duty of parents to instruct their boys to abstain from any movement that will result in property destruction or annoyance to neighbors," said Mayor Dunlap today.

"Boys and young men have been ruining property and I have instructed Police Chief Dysart to put a stop to the practice. Property destruction is not Hallowe'ening."

According to Mayor Dunlap, boys and young men have been destroying hedge fences that has taken years to grow; ruining porch rugs and smashing front porch chairs.

Last night "Stop" signs which entail a cost of $9 to erect were removed, street light globes were broken and tomatoes thrown at automobiles and doors.

"Twelve calls were received for police protection from the East Side, West Side and North Hill," said Police Chief Dysart. "Automobiles filled with police answered the calls.

"Several groups were taken in charge but permitted to return to their homes. Today several young men were fined and others will be fined in the future if depredations do not stop."

Mayor Dunlap puts particular stress upon the duty of parents and their control over their sons. "Do not sit around the house and talk of what you once done. That time is gone.

Parents Must Act.

"In former years Hallowe'en pranks consisted of putting someone else to inconvenience, such as removing gates and similar tactics. Today gates have practically disappeared.

"Take the populated sections of the city into consideration and parents will realize that it is practically impossible for a boy to escape doing damage if he enters upon others' property and carries his pranks to excess.

"A few nights ago some boys broke vases on a porch; last night tomatoes were thrown at automobiles. Had a driver been struck an auto would have been wrecked with probable injury or loss of life.

"Parents have a duty to perform and that duty is to compel their children to cease damaging property of others. Unless they do city police will make arrests.

"I have never tried or desired to be hard on the youth of this city. I do not want to now, but as mayor I must do my duty and see that other persons are not annoyed and their property damaged."

Today Police Chief Dysart made arrangements to use all the forces available at his command to sweep through the city and make arrests of persons who persist in committing depredations.

There are several automobiles and two motorcycles with sidecars that can be pressed into service. They will be on duty, tuned up ready to stop what Dysart and the mayor declare has become an evil.

Both, however, explained that they "want the boys and young men to go along with them. The police want to be friends but the boys who create damage will find their parents paying for it."

Weingartner Home From Washington

Canal Project Is Considered At Meeting At National Capital.

State Senator George T. Weingartner, who represented the New Castle Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C., at the hearing of the projected Lake Erie-Ohio Ship Canal, returned today.

The hearing before the board of army engineers yesterday was for the purpose of getting some action upon the proposed waterway. As an inducement towards the starting of the canal, various industrial companies such as the Carnegie Steel Company, Jones and Laughlin Company, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and many others, promised 100,000,000 tons of freight for the canal in a year.

Protests against the proposed canal were lodged by the Chamber of Commerce of Sharon and also of Farrell, Pa. The hearing was a short one, lasting but two hours, most of the testimony being filed with the board.

Work or jail, was the edict passed around in Miami after the hurricane. Of course lots of people needed a little rest after the storm.

Teeth Like Pearls

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My teeth, as countless women know, glisten like a row of pearls.

This tells you why. I use a new-type tooth paste which combines all helps in one. The ablest authorities I consult told me to employ it.

The name is Quindent, meaning five in one. It is made by Quindent Laboratories. It contains an olive oil cleanser of the highest order. Two harmless polishers which beautify the teeth. Four antiseptics and iodine, to combat germ attacks on the gums. Magnesia and other antacids, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay. And breath deodorants.

I have used all these helps—always. But I had to use several tooth pastes, then a mouth wash, then magnesia, then deodorants. I spent a half-hour daily on my teeth.

Now Quindent is presented, combining all in one. Four great organizations collaborated on it. It typifies the utmost in a modern dentifrice. The 16 ingredients do everything required. Now I use it exclusively, and use nothing else, by the ablest advice I can get.

The makers supply me samples—enough for 20 uses. They are for women who wish to use what I use—who follow my advice. Let me send you one. It will bring you new conceptions of a tooth paste. It will show you what modern authorities advise. Don't hesitate. This is the dentifrice of today.

Rev. G. N. Neill Is Installed Pastor Of Bethel U. P. Church

The Bethel United Presbyterian church was filled to capacity Friday evening with members of the congregation and former members and friends for the installation of the new pastor Rev. George N. Neill who assumed his pastorate at the church a few weeks ago.

The services were in charge of Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of this city, who delivered the message of the evening. Rev. C. F. Kennewig pastor of the Oak Grove United Presbyterian church, gave the charge to Rev. Neill and Rev. Robert Hamill of the Mt. Jackson United Presbyterian church, gave the charge to the congregation.

Rev. Neill is a young man and recently graduated from the Pittsburgh Theological seminary. He served with the overseas forces in France during the World War and has traveled and studied extensively abroad. The Bethel church is to be congratulated in being able to secure such an able and efficient young leader.

Following the installation services a reception was held. The pastor and church officere were in the receiving line and greeted the congregation. Congratulations were extended by Rev. Harold Post, pastor of the Presbyterian church of St. Petersburg, O., Rev. Davidson of the Enon Valley Presbyterian church and Rev. Reed of New Galilee Reformed Presbyterian church.

James Kelso gave greeting in behalf of the congregation and Esquire Raney in behalf of the Bible school.

Music was furnished by the church choir and Bible school orchestra. The auditorium was attractively decorated with autumn flowers and plants.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the congregation in the church dining room.

On Sunday morning, October 17 the church building which has recently undergone extensive remodeling will be formally dedicated with appropriate exercises. The services will begin at 11 o'clock with Dr. R. M. McGranahan secretary of the Board of Home missions of the United Presbyterian church of North America as the principal speaker.

In the evening there will be services at 7:45. Rev. R. N. Montgomery of the Pittsburgh seminary will attend and have part in the services.

On Friday evening and Saturday afternoon preparatory services will be held for the observance of Communion on Sunday October 24.

Wife Who Slew Mate In Auto Gets Life Term; Appeals Case

Mrs. Lillian Lindley McKie, and the murdered husband, George A. McKie.

By Central Press.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 14.—It took a jury only 20 minutes to bring to a conclusion the most sensational trial in the history of Richmond county, Ga. At the end of that time Mrs. Lillian Lindley McKie, pretty and 36, whose home is in Hutchison, Kan., was found guilty of murdering her husband and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

For two hours, it was proven during the trial, Mrs. McKie sat in the doorway of the First Baptist church of Augusta on the afternoon of July 2, waiting for her husband to return to his automobile, which he had left parked on a prominent street of Augusta. Then, as McKie, who was 17 years older than his wife, opened the door of his car and took his place behind the steering wheel, Mrs. McKie rushed up and fired the fatal shot. It pierced his head and he died six hours later without regaining consciousness. His only utterances while he lay on his deathbed were low, almost undistinguishable mutterings: "My baby, my baby boy." The couple had two sons, George A. Jr., nine, and Keith, six.

Self defense was Mrs. McKie's claim during the trial and immediately following the reading of the verdict her attorneys announced they would appeal the case. Defense counsel relied solely on an unsworn statement of the defendant, who, under the laws of the state of Georgia, could not be questioned on the witness stand. In her claim of self defense, Mrs. McKie charged that as she reached her husband's automobile he made a threatening remark and gesture and she thought he was going to carry out threats he had previously made. There had been domestic troubles for several years and the couple was not living together at the time of the tragedy.

Mark Green of Millen, Ga., was the only eye-witness to the crime.

To Give Report Of S. S. Convention At Greenwood Church

Rev. S. R. Maitland will give a report of the State Sabbath school convention which convened at Reading, Pa., this week, in connection with his sermon at Greenwood M. E. church Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Bible school will be held at 1:30.

Portable School Building Moved

Workmen have completed the removal of the portable school building from Thaddeus Stevens school to the Arthur McGill school and it will be put into use Monday, October 18.

The day's most versatile robbers are found in Wichita, Kan., where the Eagle reports they "kicked in the transom."

Much Interest In Revival Services

The revival meetings at the Church of the Nazarene started last evening with a splendid crowd in attendance. A good spirit prevailed and much interest shown. The outlook is very encouraging for a very successful campaign. Rev. Rowe was in charge of the music and Evangelist Lum Jones did the preaching. His text was Proverbs 29:18. "Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he." Happiness comes through keeping the law of God and doing one's duty in relation to his fellowman. Duty calls for responsibility. Burden follows responsibility and in turn burden prompts action. Unconverted humanity is hopeless without God and the church should awaken to her duty and responsibility in the salvation of men. Mr. Jones's appeal to the church was powerful and stirring. He will preach Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. There will be a street meeting tonight on the Diamond.

Still Clings To Golden Tresses

The Hon. Dolores Mullins, daughter of Sir John Mullins and sister of Princess Imeritinsky, is famous for two things, first, her striking beauty and second, her courage. She is listed among the courageous because she insists on clinging to her long golden tresses, despite the pleadings of her friends to join the bobbed-hair lassies. It takes real courage nowadays, they say, to appear in public minus the short hair cut. Dolores is one of the very few unbobbed beauties of England.

Many Attend Young People's Banquet In Christian Church

Dinner Is Featured By Addresses By Speakers On The Work Of Young People.

About one hundred and fifty were present at the young people's fellowship banquet Friday evening in the Central Christian church, held in connection with the one-day convention here yesterday. The dinner was served in the church dining room at attractively appointed tables by ladies of the congregation.

Robert M. Hopkins of St. Louis, Mo., was toastmaster and after-dinner talks were given by Frank Helme of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Miss Anna Clark of St. Louis. Miss Ruth Patton spoke on "Youth trained for the stewardship of leadership through the young people's conference movement".

"Youth Informed on the World-Wide Tasks" was discussed by Miss Anna Phelps. A duet number was given by Mrs. William Wilcox and Miss Margaret Palmer.

At the conclusion of the dinner the meeting was continued in the auditorium. Following the opening prayer by the pastor of the convention church, Rev. Jesse B. Porter, an interesting address was given by Miss Anna Clark, superintendent of young people's work. Miss Clark illustrated her talk by the use of stereopticon views.

The address of the evening was given by Mrs. T. A. Young, a returned missionary from Japan. Mrs. Young told of the customs and religious enterprises of Japan.

Knights Of Malta Hold Good Meeting

The regular meeting of Star of Bethlehem Commandery No. 491 Knights of Malta, was held Friday evening in the Malta Hall on East Washington street with Sir Knight Commander Wilbur Myers presiding. There was a good attendance of the members and an excellent report of the meeting held in Greenville, Pa., on Tuesday night when about fifty members made the trip to that place in automobiles. Other commanderes represented at the meeting were those of Sharon, Ellwood City and Meadville. There will be another large get together meeting held on next Monday under the auspices of the Ellwood City commandery when all the above mentioned commanderies expect to have a large number in attendance. Automobiles will leave the local hall, 349½ East Washington street at 7 o'clock. All members of Star of Bethlehem commandery are requested to attend this meeting.

Instructions For Swimming Classes

All members of evening swimming classes at the Ben Franklin Junior High School are requested to use the door at the side of the building on which the athletic field is located. Those wishing to get to the locker room will also use this door. This is the request of Edwin H. Geasa, swimming teacher of this school. This will hold good until further notice.

Interesting Deed Is In Possession J. Elder Bryan

District Attorney J. Elder Bryan has in his possession at the present time one of the most interesting deeds in the county, probably one of the most interesting in the entire state of Pennsylvania.

It is a deed granting to John Cummings, administrator for John Streaton, a Revolutionary soldier, a piece of land in Westmoreland county. The deed is dated Aug. 24, 1787 and is under the personal signature of Benjamin Franklin. The signature reads "B. Franklin."

The land was for Streaton's services in the War of the Revolution and apparently the administrator or his successors sold it to John Whiting in 1797. It is now the property of John Whiting who lives near New Bedford.

The land described, then a part of Westmoreland county is located near Edenburg, Pa.

Sunday Is Rescue Mission Day In New Castle Churches

Mission Workers Will Fill Pulpits

Mass Meeting In Afternoon Also To Be Big Feature Of Day's Program

ANNUAL DAY OF MISSION APPEAL

New Castle is going to church tomorrow. Not every man and woman in the city perhaps, but most of them, for the majority of the pulpits in the city will be occupied by Mission men who are here to help in the annual City Rescue Mission Day.

The Mission Day of this year should be a notable affair for it marks the 15th successful year of the City Rescue Mission in New Castle. The success has been a progressive sort of thing for each year has seen a little more and a little better work done.

People Decide

Just how much work the City Rescue Mission does depends entirely upon the people of the city. The size of the work depends upon the size of the contributions and as each year has seen an increase in the amount, this year, the Fifteenth Anniversary should see a total of about $10,000.00.

Nationally known Mission men will be here tomorrow. Men who have built a reputation for service in Buffalo, Grand Rapids, Erie, Youngstown and other cities. These men are sacrificing their time and talents to help New Castle put over its City Rescue Mission Day and should be heard by a large crowd.

Afternoon Meeting

Sunday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock the annual Mass meeting for men and women will be held in the First Presbyterian church. This should prove the high spot of the day. Rev. G. A. Leichliter of Buffalo, N. Y., will speak, and there will also be Mission men present to supplement his remarks. Peter Quartel of Dayton, O., will have charge of the music, and the Apollo club will sing several numbers.

Another mass meeting will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening and this also will undoubtedly attract a large crowd.

It is sincerely to be hoped that New Castle responds in its usual open handed fashion to the appeal for funds for the City Rescue Mission tomorrow. Only by a generous contribution of funds can the high standard of service of the Rescue Mission be kept up. The larger the total of the contributions, the larger piece of work can be put over in the coming year.

Tomorrow is the only day in which an appeal will be made for funds for the Rescue Mission. E. J. Berquist believes that New Castle will respond even larger than last year.

The services in all of the churches will probably see filled pews. Only once a year is there such a splendid group of outside speakers in the city and the opportunity of hearing such men is one that is appreciated.

Sunday Assignments

Following are the church assignments for Sunday. The Mission meetings have already been held in the First Methodist and First Baptist churches.

The speaker assignments for the Sunday meetings follow:

Music To Feature Institute Here October 18-19

Special Numbers Will Be Given At Each Session By Soloists And Church Choir

An attractive feature of the Christian Citizenship Institute to be held in the Central Presbyterian church Monday and Tuesday, the 18 and 19 will be the music. On Monday night the quartette of the First Presbyterian church will sing. The address of the evening will be by Dr. William Parsons on "Shall we preserve our American Sabbath?" At the Tuesday afternoon meeting for women, to be addressed by Mrs. Lulu Loveland Shepard, on the topic, "Dangers Threatening Our Homes," Mrs. Robert Fleming will sing a solo. On Tuesday night, preceding the address by Hon. M. Clyde Kelly on "Law Enforcement," the choir of the Central Presbyterian church will furnish some special music.

Special Service For Anniversary Of Wampum Pastor

"Be of Good Cheer" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning in the First Baptist church of Wampum. The pastor, Rev. L. L. Matthews will preach. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the pastor's third anniversary will be celebrated. The sermon will be preached by Rev. G. E. Sallie, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Beaver Falls. Special Services In Many Churches

Citizenship Conference To Take Place Monday And Tuesday

REVIVALS START IN SOME CHURCHES

Church going people in this city will have ample opportunity for attending religious services in various churches throughout the city during the remainder of this month.

A number of meetings of religious nature are scheduled to take place in the next few weeks which will be of especial interest to religious workers.

Sunday will be known as "Rescue Mission Day" when services will be conducted in New Castle churches by mission workers from other cities in the interest of the local Rescue Mission.

Citizenship Conference

On Monday and Tuesday, October 18 and 19, there will be a Christian Citizenship Institute conducted in the Central Presbyterian church. Among the speakers will be Hon. M. Clyde Kelly of the thirty-third congressional district of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Lula Loveland Shepard who will speak to women only on Tuesday afternoon on the Mormon situation and Dr. William Parsons, editor of the Christian Statesmen of Pittsburgh.

Beginning Sunday, October 24, a Christian Laymen campaign will be sponsored by the Christian Laymen's Association of Pittsburgh. Ministers of this city will co-operate in the campaign which promises to be one of the most successful ever staged in this city. Dr. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church is chairman of the committee in charge.

Evangelistic Meetings

Evangelistic services are being conducted each evening in the Church of the Nazarene, West Falls street. Evangelist Lum Jones of Ada, Oklahoma, will peach each evening until October 31. The local pastor, Rev. G. Howard Rowe will assist in the music and will secure soloists for each evening.

Rev. Harvey McAllister, of California, will begin a series of meetings in the Pentecostal Tabernacle on Sunday, October 24. The services will continue for one week closing on October 31.

Dr. Frederick Agar of New York City, will conduct a conference of church officers of the Beaver Baptist Association in the First Baptist church, Sunday morning at 9:30. He will preach at the morning service at 11 o'clock.

A teacher who laments present conditions and tendencies says "the cave boy was surrounded on all sides by vibrant nature." Sounds like another knock on our flappers.

International Sunday School Lesson

Notes On Lesson By

George M. Landis, Pastor First Baptist Church, New Castle.

JOSHUA, ISRAEL'S NEW LEADER

Num. 27:18-20; Joshua 1:1-9.

Golden Text: "Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee wheresoever thou goest" (Joshua 1:9).

God's work goes on though His servants pass away. When Moses died God had a man ready to take his place, Joshua, who for many years had been the military leader of Israel. While not a majestic character like his predecessor, Joshua was a man of faith, courage, and action.

I. THE CALL OF JOSHUA (Num-27:18-20).

God Himself called Joshua to his work, using Moses as the human instrument in making His will known. That the Divine selection might be recognized by the people, Moses was commanded to lay his hands on Joshua, and to present him before Eleazar the priest, and charge him in the presence of the assembled congregation. Doubtless there were many ambitious young men in the ranks of Israel who were casting longing eyes on the post of supreme leadership. Perhaps there were some who would have received a larger popular vote than Joshua. But personal ambition and popular appeal are not a substitute for a Divine call. It was the heighth of wisdom for Israel to accept the man of God's choice. In all of our church work, may we seek to recognize the leaders whom God has chosen.

At the time of his call, Joshua was about eighty-three years of age, and led the people until he was one hundred and ten.

II. THE COMMISSION OF JOSHUA (Jos. 1:1-5).

Immediately following the death of Moses, Joshua, who had previously called by God, is now commissioned by God for the great work of conquering Canaan. The commission embraced:

1. A command to cross Jordon with all the people (vs.2). This in itself was a great undertaking from a human standpoint. It was the season of year when the river was a raging torrent. There were no bridges or boats to aid in crossing. But God never makes a command which He does not enable us to perform. It was a command well calculated to test the faith of Joshua. May we never faltar at the apparently impossible things which God tells us to do. Raging rivers are no obsticle to the man who has faith in the omnipotent God.

2. A command to enter the land which God had promised to Israel (vs.2). Here again was a great difficulty, for the land was filled with formitable foes, walled cities, and many strongholds. The same faced Israel as had faced them forty years before. But faith is not afraid to enter the land the conquer the enemies. Canaan is a fitting type of the spiritual possessions which Jesus Christ has purchased for His followers, but which are only possessed by the fight of faith. We have the title deed to all spiritual blessings (Eph.1:3), yet how many portions of this goodly land has not been possessed.

3. Possession determined by occupancy (vs.3–4). While all the land within the borders mentioned in verse four, was given to Israel, they were to enjoy only so much as they were willing to conquer and occupy. History tells us that Israel did not occupy all. Walled cities and fortresses were not the determining factor, but "every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you." "Faith's footprint is the seal of preemption and God will honor it" (Horton). There are thousands of promises in God's Word, which belong to the children of God, and which they have never planted there feet upon.

4. Victory promised (vs.5). God then told Joshua that no man would be able to stand against him. Had Israel been obedient to God, not a single defeat would have been registered against them. Just so victory is promised to the children of God in this day (Rom.8:37; 2 Cor. 2:14). Victory was certain because—

5. God's presence was assured (vs.5). As Joshua was probably thinking of how little qualified he was to follow the great leader Moses, God says: "As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee: I will not fail thee nor forsake thee." It had not been the might of Moses but the might of Jehovah which had wrought deliverance hitherto. While Moses was gone, God remained. So the indwelling Holy Spirit is the secret of our success and victory in spiritual things (Mat.28:20; Gal. 5:16,18,25).

III. THE CHARGE TO JOSHUA (vs.6-9).

1. A charge to be courageous (vs.6,7,9). This charge was thrice repeated that the humble Joshua might not fear to undertake the tremenduous task before him. There were three things to inspire Joshua's courage: the oath of God (vs. 6), the Word of God (vs.7), and the presence of God (vs.9). All these has the believer of this day. May they inspire us to greater courage and holy daring for the Lord.

2. A charge to conform completely to the Word of God (vs.7-9). This conformity was to include "all things" commanded of God. It would admit of no deviation from the straight path—"turn not from it to the right hand nor to the left." It was to be the basis of public leadership—"This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth." It necessitated constant meditation upon the Word of God, that he might know and understand its message — "Thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do." Little wonder that many find it hard to obey God, when they do not study His Word enough to learn God's will.

3. A promise of success and victory (vs.8). "For then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou have good success." It has ever been true that both individuals and nation that have conformed to God's Word have been preeminently successful and prosperous.

IV. THE CHARACTER OF JOSHUA.

Joshua, a spirit-filled man, was known for his courage, faith, and obedience. He was not afraid to be in the minority. For years he occupied a subordinate position under Moses, and when the time came, he humbly accepted the leadership of the people, relying upon God for strength and guidance.

In many respects Joshua is a type of Jesus Christ. The name "Joshua" is the Hebrew for "Jesus," and means "save". Joshua was a servant under Moses, the minister of the law, so Jesus, the Servant of Jehovah, was made under the law and lived in perfect obedience to it. At the death of Moses, Joshua becomes a type of Christ in resurrection, as the leader of His heavenly people—the believers of the Church dispensation, and their conquering Captain.

Come—Let Us Reason Together

Report Game Likely To Be Plentiful In County This Fall

With the approach of November 1, when the hunting season for small game, which is prevalent in this district, opens for the current year, the thoughts of the thousands of hunters in Lawrence county turn to the possibilities of bagging the limit allowed by law of the type of game that appeals to them.

According to Ralph Davis, county game protector, H. Clare Stockman, and other well known sportsmen of the county, there will be plenty of opportunity of securing small game of most kinds this year.

The dry weather prevailing in the breeding season last spring and the fact that there was not only a good number of old game and birds left over after the last hunting season, the planting of new stock and other conditions, such as the protection afforded the animals and birds by the sportsmen and farmers in the non-hunting season of the year, has resulted in an increase of many kinds of small game that is remarkable and insures good hunting.

Probably the outstanding feature of the coming hunting season is the happy results indicated in the effort of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association of which Charles Withers is president and Louis McClung, the secretary, to create a better feeling between the hunter and farmer, aided and abetted by H. J. Sines, division game protector superintendent and Ralph Davis, county game protector.

Aim of Organization

There are two ways in which the association is accomplishing the result and making good headway. This is through posters provided by the association, in which a reward of $20 is offered, first for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of persons violating the state game laws and secondly, for information that will result in the punishment of persons calling themselves hunters, but who seemingly find more pleasure in damaging the fences, stock and other property of the farmers.

Farmers who have been approached on the matter to the present time have expressed their appreciation and approval of the effort of the real sportsmen of the county to protect their interests and it is probable that the "No Trespass" signs so prevalent in past years in various sections of the county will be replaced to a considerable extent by the posters of the association. The association is also taking steps through several hundred other posters, to warn hunters against shooting the Hungarian quail, which were planted in the county in the past few months. It is a closed season for these birds in order that a record number of the birds may be available in another year.

The association is going even a step farther in the protection of these birds, two hundred and fifty pairs of which were placed principally in the northern section of the county, by having arranged to display some of the birds in windows of prominent stores of the city, in order that the hunters may have no excuse in shooting any of them. Numerous covies of young birds of this breed are now known to exist, especially in Neshannock and Wilmington townships and in the Neshannock creek district. The good results are due in part to the sportsmen patrolling the districts in which the birds were placed and shooting hawks and crows, the principal enemies of the birds.

Season for woodcock and raccoons is now in. The woodcock, a migratory bird, are more plentiful than usual because of the lateness of the seasons. The heavy rains and few heavy frosts and the fact that the bottom lands are full of water, have scattered the birds but the real sportsman will find plenty of opportunity of some real hunting.

Raccoons are plentiful according to reports from many parts of the county and the coon hunters are meeeting with good success.

Season Opens November 1

Season for grouse, ringnecked pheasants, native quail, rabbits and squirrels comes in November 1. Grouse are scarce but more plentiful than for many years. Heavy cover and thickets will afford them better protection than usual and although there will be more opportunities of shooting them, indications are that a goodly number of these great game birds will survive the onslaught of the hunters.

Rabbits are unusually plentiful and hunters should be able to go the limit allowed by the laws. Good breeding conditions this year and the importation of Kansas cottontails have resulted in a large increase of the rabbit population. The fact that the hunting season on rabbits has been shortened fifteen days and the bag has been cut down to five a day or thirty in a season should mean a still greater abundance of rabbits next year.

Fox and grey squirrels are fairly plentiful, according to Game Protector Davis, although nut crops on which the squirrels feast are not as plentiful as they once were in this part of the country.

Native quail, due to good breeding season, the infusion of new blood and the scattering of the covies last hunting season, are quite plentiful. This is particularly true in Neshannock and Wilmington townships. There are many covies in all parts of the county.

Ringnecked pheasants are more numerous than might be expected as a result of the way they were slaughtered last fall, when hunters in spite of the protection afforded hens, which may not be legally shot, killed them as well as the male birds. Apparently there are still some hunters, who are not real sportsmen and pretend that they do not know the difference between a male and female of the species, although there is hardly a possibility of mistaking a male for a female bird.

Sportsmen of the district are even now planning for 1927 and hope to secure rabbits, Hungarian quail, ringnecked pheasants and raccoons to be placed for propogation purposes throughout the county.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—Harry Bassett, president of the Buick Motor Company, was in the American hospital here today in a critical condition, suffering from an attack of double pneumonia. His condition showed no change over night, hospital attendants said this morning.

Bassett was stricken here while on a tour of Europe with a number of General Motors officials.

While Bassett's condition is considered as critical, his attending physicians still are hoping for his recovery.

SHARON STREET CAR STRUCK BY TRAIN, ONE MAN INJURED

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 16.—Eight passengers and the operator of a street car on the Sharon-Farrell line had a close call from serious injury when the car was struck by an Erie railroad yard engine at the switch track just south of Bank street. Only one person was hurt, William M. Riedl, chief clerk of the Farrell plant of the American Steel and Wire Company, suffering a bruised knee. The engine had crossed to the east side of Dock street and was returning when the accident occurred. An automobile obscured the vision of the street car operator, he said, and he did not see the engine coming. The front end of the street car was slightly damaged and the car was knocked from the track. Mr. Reidl was injured when he rose to warn the other passengers to move to the rear of the car when he saw the collision was unavoidable.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—A storm wave of mild intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on October 15; this transcontinental storm will travel a little further south than is the average path at this season; moderate to light precipitation will be expected during this period, occuring principally on northern Pacific slope, in eastern great central valleys and in southwest; principal weather feature of this period will be the downward trend of temperatures, a rather sharp cold wave that will be expected to reach northern cotton belt in great central valleys and mountain country; this cold wave will be expected to center on 17 in central and northern latitudes and on 19 in south; while this cold wave will be of short duration, it will be the forerunner of wave centering on 26.

A storm wave of rather severe intensity will cross continent during week centering on 22, reaching far southward, causing moderate to heavy precipitation and rather severe temperature extremes. Cold wave following this storm center will be expected to reach central cotton belts. Most precipitation of this period will occur near the line that divides sections 1, 3 and 5 from 2, 4 and 6, the 90th meridian; least precipitation during this period will occur on southern Pacific slope and western plains. Such forecasts of precipitation always refer to amounts relative to local normal amounts. Farm work, especially that which requires dry weather, should be rushed during the few days just preceding this storm center. Periods centering on 17 and 26 will be expected to carry killing frosts and freezing temperatures a little further south than usual but not to record-breaking points. Killing frosts have reached central cotton belts in past years by October 25 but during the average year these weather features do not reach south of latitude 37 by this date excepting on western plains and in high altitudes.

Looking Forward

During 1925 and early 1926 many French and German scientists advocated the hoarding of breed grains against poor crops that were expected during 1926 and 1927. Those forecasts were based upon planetary meteorology and tables of past experience. Recent reports state that crop weather of France during past months has been very dry and that present condition is very dry and unseasonably warm, bringing out many fruit blooms and other springlike features and putting soil in such condition as to make preparation for winter grains almost impossible. My forecasts were to the effect that all of Europe would have a moisture shortage at this titme, especially Mediterranean border countries. I am of the opinion that, should France be unable to sow winter grains, at least under fair conditions, her 1927 grain crop will result in an unusually small yield. It is evident that fall moisture will not reach their subsoil in sufficient quantities; that extremely severe weather will reach that country January to March, 1927; that a large part of their winter sown grain will freeze out. Western Europe is a grain importing section and a very important factor of 1927 world grain supply and demand will be the yield of this section.

THAT BUSY DOLLAR

"How was the money raised for the 1925-1926 Community Chest employed," asks a subscriber?

This money was employed in so many various services that it is impossible to record all the errands of mercy it performed.

But here in a general way is a record enough to persuade every citizen who has the welfare of New Castle at heart, to give more this year.

1660 Babies enrolled in clinics.
51 Homeless boys and girls provided home.
4616 Children given medical inspection.
18690 Days of free hospital service to the sick.
498 Girls sheltered by Christian Institutions.
406 Families served.
1000 Children treated at Crippled Children's Clinic.
875 Health classes for men and boys.
600 In attendance at free swimming campaign.
14800 Pints of milk for undernourished babies.
164 Men and boys taught life saving.
43 Aged women provided with a comfortable home.
90 Ex-service men benefited by civilian relief.

1000 or more glorious camp days enjoyed by boys in character building surroundings. Hundreds of foreign born taught the English language and American Customs.

In addition to all this the continuous service practically day and night rendered in countless ways unable to be recorded and too numerous to be remembered by those who carry on the splendid work.

SAN CURA OINTMENT

Relieves Pain, Draws Out Poison and Heals Promptly.

There is no better remedy for burns, cuts and bruises than the antiseptic and healing ointment called San Cura.

Every person ought to have a jar on hand; it is the first and best aid to the injured in case of accident, and is the ideal remedy for so many other distressing and painful ailments besides.

For example, it is guaranteed to relieve itching, bleeding and protruding piles, eczema, tetter, ulcers, boils and pimples, or money back.

In case of old running sores, no matter how long standing, a few poultices of San Cura Ointment will draw out the poison, and leave them in such a thoroughly antiseptic condition that they will usually heal.

We advise every reader to get a jar of San Cura Ointment today, and keep it ready for an accident or emergency that may happen. 30c, 60c and $1.25 a jar at drug stores on the money back plan.

San Cura Soap is delightful for shampooing because of its antiseptic properties that banish the germs of dandruff and other impurities from the scalp. It removes pimples and blackheads, too. 25 cents a cake.

WATCH CAMPAIGN OF FIRST REAL WOMAN GOVERNOR FOR RE-ELECTION

Nation Watches Election Campaign In Wyoming This Fall

Governor Nellie Ross Is First Woman Governor To Make Race "On Her Own"

By LILITH HALE
(Special Correspondent of the New Castle News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 16.—Women all over the nation are watching with keen interest the campaign of Governor Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming for re-election.

For this is the first itme women have ever had the opportunity to see a woman campaigning for the highest office in her state absolutely upon her own record and her own ability.

When Mrs. Ross was first elected, it was admittedly to carry on the policies initiated by her husband, whose very close partner she had been in his political work. Both campaigns of Miriam A. Ferguson of Texas were based upon the policies and the personality of her husband, the ousted "Governor Jim". Not her heartiest supporters could say that Mrs. Ferguson was the governor. They wanted her re-elected because they believed in her husband, and because she had, as governor, constantly acted on her husband's advice.

Real Governor.

But when Mrs. Ross became governor, she was governor. True, she carried to completion the enterprises initiated by her husband. But naturally new enterprises, new situations, new issues, have arisen during her incumbency.

These Mrs. Ross has investigated and dealt with herself. She learns what they have to tell and what they believe. If she agrees with them, they work together. If not, Governor Ross quietly makes it plain that, after all, she is governor, and that she must stand upon her own principles, her own convictions—and her own achievements.

No Attack on Record.

That is what she is doing in Wyoming today. She was, of course, renominated by the Democrats without question. But the Republicans, in the hope of winning the state, put up Frank C. Emerson, an irrigation expert, as her opponent in the general elections. No attack is being made on Mrs. Ross' record, her ability or her success as governor. The campaign against her is being made on the basis that, as irrigation is Wyoming's primary problem, it would be excellent to have an irrigation expert as governor. That, and Republican party loyalty.

Thus the fight Mrs. Ross is making in Wyoming is actually the first time a woman has campaigned for re-election absolutely "on her own", with nothing but her record as a state executive and her own convictions as a statesman to determine voters.

Test Public Attitude.

Woman leaders with the interest of women in politics at heart are gratified that at last a successful woman public official can test the attitude of the public toward women in politics by running for re-election on the same basis as a man official runs for re-election, with no complications of sentiment, personal loyalty or politics inherited from a husband.

Of course, the campaigns being made by three women members of the 69th congress are also being made on their records. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts and Florence Prag Kahn of California were first elected to carry on policies for which their husbands had stood in congress.

But they are now standing for re-election, easily renominated by their parties, solely upon their own records as congresswomen. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, the only woman with a living husband ever elected to congress, made her first campaign just as a man would make it, supported by the strong Democratic organization of Jersey City, and she is now making her campaign for re-election upon her record, as well as upon the issues for which she was first elected.

Likely To Be Re-elected.

It is likely that all three will be re-elected, as Mrs. Kahn's and Mrs. Rogers' districts are regularly Republican, and Mrs. Norton's is regularly Democratic.

Governor Ross' campaign is more fraught with danger, not because her record has not been sufficient to re-elect anybody, but because Wyoming is by no means definitely Democratic, and because the Republican plea is being made for an irrigation expert in the executive office, according to observers who have been in Wyoming. Wyoming has one Democrat and one Republican in the United States senate, and its only member of the national house of representatives is Republican.

Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the Democratic National committee, says that Governor Ross and Judge Florence Allen of Ohio are the two greatest achievements of woman suffrage. These women, she points out, have stood solely upon their achievements and their capacity for their respective offices as governor of Wyoming and justice of the Ohio supreme court. Neither made any special plea for the women's vote, but both, nevertheless, were staunchly supported by women. Judge Allen just made an unsuccessful campaign for the Democratic nomination for Senator from Ohio, the strong Atlee Pomerene being her opponent.

Equal to Man.

"Governor Ross is the equal of any man governor, and the superior of most of them. Judge Allen is the equal of any man state supreme court justice, and the superior of most of them," Mrs. Blair says in support of her claim that these two public officials are the outstanding achievement of enfranchised women.

Governor Ross is now making an effort to reach every part of her large and sparsely populated state before the November 2 elections. This is very expensive in time and money, both of which are scarce to Governor Ross, but she intends to take her record and her plans for the future to her people.

Governor Ross has already been hailed as the Democratic party's choice for nomination as vice president of the United States in 1928. The conference of governors held in Cheyenne this year brought Mrs. Ross close to every governor in the country, and they all came away completely "sold" on her.

Her visit to eastern cities last year was almost a triumphal tour, as everywhere newspapers and political leaders, both men and women, eagerly sought her out. Testimonial dinners were held in her honor in Washington and other cities.

Now women everywhere are awaiting the results of this first real test of women's success as politicians and state officials—most of them naturally hoping for Governor Ross' re-election.

Bank Examiners Take Up Probe In Pittsburgh

Brotherhood Savings & Trust Bank Under Examination By Officials

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 16.—State bank examiners took charge of the Brotherhood Savings & Trust Company, Pittsburgh's only labor bank, today, while a thorough investigation of the bank's reported loss of $125,000 to $320,000 to a bond salesman was launched.

Three officials of the bank were held by city detectives on "suspicious person" charges, while the investigators checked the story of R. A. McCrady, president of the bank, that he turned over the huge sum to Charles E. Knapp, a bond salesman, who was to deliver the bonds at McCrady's office, but who disappeared.

Knapp has not been located, but orders to apprehend him were sent to all nearby towns where detectives believe he might have gone after McCrady says he received the money.

The three bank officials held are McCrady, William Kelly, vice president, and J. L. Nelson, treasurer. Frank Redman, who is said to have introduced Knapp to President McCrady, was held on a similar technical charge pending investigation.

Pennock candidate for United States senate will speak and it is expected that Elisha Kent Kane, candidate for governor and Mrs. McGrew, candidate for lieutenant governor will also be present and speak.

Gets Death Notice From Morristown

Mrs. Anna Evans, Lyndal street, widow of Benjamin Evans, has received a cablegram from Morristown, Wales, telling of the death of W. L. Evans, father of the late Benjamin Evans, her husband, at 10 o'clock Friday morning. He was 86 years of age and was one of the best known men of that city. He is survived by six children, Meredith Evans, managing director of the Benford works; John Evans, David L. Evans, Mrs. Hannah H. Evans, Mrs. Mary Morgan, Mrs. Elizabeth Davies and W. L. Evans of Chicago. Mrs. Anna Evans was in Wales this summer and saw the deceased. She returned home a few weeks ago.

Motoring Luxury In Its Highest Form

It is significant that a great proportion of Hupmobile Eight owners formerly drove far costlier cars.

For the Hupmobile Eight makes instant and compelling appeal to men and women constantly seeking new heights of luxury and performance.

To those well able to judge the finest in motoring the Hupmobile Eight reveals the utmost of smooth performance, united to almost startling economy of investment, operation and upkeep.

The straight-eight, as Hupmobile has perfected it, brings to them silent, fluent power such as they had never before known, an ease of handling, a quick-footed acceleration totally new in their experience.

Drive the Hupmobile Eight yourself if you would realize why engineers, as well as seasoned owners, regard it as the highest development of the eight-in-line principle.

Compare its beauty, its driving facility, its outstanding performance, not only with higher priced cars but with those at or near its price.

Only in this way will you understand why this higher expression of motoring luxury is changing the buying trend in the fine-car field.

Do Your Share To Fill Chest

Campaign Workers Should Be Received With Courtesy Next Week

THEY'RE DOING WORK FOR YOU

Tuesday, October 19, a group of New Castle men and women will start out on a campaign for funds which will settle for another year the question of maintenance for 10 of the elemosynary institutions here.

These men and women have no more personal interest in these institutions than any other group of men and women, than any single individual in the city, but they believe that somebody has to do the arduous work of collecting funds for the Community Chest and they have agreed to sacrifice their time and energy towards a cause which is for all of us.

Ten Organizations

The ten organizations in the Community Chest are the Almira Home, Associated Charities, Lawrence County Chapter American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, New Castle Hospital, Salvation Army, Shenango Valley Hospital, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

Instead of the old method of raising funds for each institution separately the Community Chest raises it for all, at one time, and thus saves the attendant overhead expenses for some nine drives.

It's an efficient manner of raising funds, one that has an appeal to the average man and woman, and because Community Chest is the problem of all of us, it should be received kindly when a solicitor calls.

The men and women who will act as solicitors are doing this work because they like it particularly. They are doing it because it is a civic responsibility, a civic duty, one that belongs to every one of us.

When they approach you, remember they are doing your work. The least you can do is to give your share of money, for they will be doing both.

Cantonese Troops Capture Village

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 16.—Marshall Sun Chauan Fang of the allied armies was in flight today as Canton-ese troops took possession of the province of Kiangsi.

Secession of his strongest supporters and treacherous withdrawals from Kukiang and other strongholds are the reasons advanced for the overthrow of Fang and the collapse of his armies.

Accompanied by his general staff, Marshall Fang is aboard a cruiser and it is believed he is fleeing toward Nanking.

Cantonese troops are in full possession of Kiangsi and General Chang Kai Shek has already started to reorganize the leaderless soldiery.

At Conference In Slippery Rock

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools and a party of principals and supervisors attended a conference in the Slippery Rock Normal school on Friday.

Dr. Green announced today that J. J. Matthews of the state department would be here on October 20 to inspect the vocational work being done in the New Castle schools.

Lawrence County Farmer Qualifies In 400 Bushel Potato Growing Club

The first Lawrence county potato grower to qualify for membership in the Pennsylvania "400" Bushel club is David Byler, who lives on the farm owned by William McCombs, located near Mt. Jackson.

Any potato grower in Pennsylvania who produces 400 bushels or more per acre is eligible for this club, but so far as is known no Lawrence county man has ever been successful in producing that amount of potatoes on a measured acre.

Mr. Byler plowed under a clover sod on this field in the fall of 1924, manured it well during the winter and replowed it the following spring. He planted it to potatoes that spring and produced an estimated yield of 320 bushels per acre. During last winter the field was manured with about ten tons of manure per acre, plowed and prepared for potatoes this spring. One thousand pounds acid phosphate per acre was broadcasted over the fields. Michigan certified seed was planted May 26 with 32 inches between the rows and the hills 10 inches apart in the row. The field was cultivated six times during the growing season and sprayed eight times with a sprayer carrying upwards of 200 pounds pressure.

Mr. Byler is one of the younger potato growers of the county, but he has demonstrated that with good soil, the rather heavy application of fertilizer, good cultivation and spraying, large yields can be obtained on Lawrence county farms.

Present Day Students Given Commendation By College Janitor

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 16—Always has been heard the wail "what is this generation coming to?" Added to this has been the prevalent opinion that the college student of today is the worst ever. It is not so however with with W. Perry Sewall, superintendent of grounds and buildings at Westminster college.

According to Mr. Sewall who is in his ninth year as an employe of Westminster college, the student body of today is a considerable improvement over the college youth of bygone days. He bases his opinion on occurrences during his tenure at Westminster and from tales told by old townspeople who have had almost active connection with the United Presbyterian school for years.

When interviewed Mr. Sewall was in a reminiscent mood and readily told of a few of the outstanding incidents and pranks since he came to Westminster.

He told of an occasion when during the "wee' small hours" of the morning, students dismantled a farm cultivator and a hay rack which they located on a farm outside of town and then rebuilt the implements after carrying the parts to the platform of the college chapel.

With a distinct smile on his face Mr. Sewall told of the time an old-style hearse was lifted to the roof of the porch on Old Main. The hearse was a massive affair and had been parked in a vacant lot in the middle of the town and had become an eye-sore. By using a pulley and with the help of practically all the male students, the hearse was lifted to the porch roof. Needless to say it was a precarious position. Fortunately for the college but very much not so for the students Mr. Sewall discovered the prank before any of the night workers were astir in the morning. With a slight shove the hearse was toppled to the ground where it smashed into a thousand pieces. An hour's work by Mr. Sewall's staff removed the debris and when classes started at 8:15 a. m. there were no signs of the hearse.

On one occasion the Psalm books in the college chapel were removed with the exception of one which was conspicuously placed on the platform. It was the intention of the prepretators to embarrass the chapel leader. However Mr. Sewall again unearthed the caper and the Psalm books were in their usual place when chapel convened.

One of the latest capers, according to Mr. Sewall was to obtain a cow at night from a pasture near town and lead it into the college chapel. A janitor discovered the visitor but he had to call for help to get the animal down the two flights of stairs. A bovine odor was left which lingered for several days.

The fact that Mr. Sewall has not been troubled greatly of late does not indicate that the students are without pep and a love for fun. The Freshman-Sophomore activities have been carried on as usual this year while the annual flag rush was the best witnessed in years. The class activities will cease with the annual football game between the under classes within the next few weeks.

After all the school year is young and who knows what tales the superintendent of grounds may have to tell when spring arrives.

MacCalla To Speak At Station WCAE

C. S. MacCalla, vice president and general manager of the Penn-Ohio System, will be the speaker on the "Electric Night" program to be broadcast from radio station WCAE, Pittsburgh, next Thursday in connection with a worldwide observance of the 47th anniversary of the invention of the incandescent lamp by Thomas A. Edison.

Fifty broadcasting stations scattered throughout the world will have special programs that evening.

The program from WCAE will be put on from eight to nine in the evening, the short address by Mr. MacCalla being a feature of this hour. The head of the electric system serving throughout this section will speak on "The Magic Age" and will have many interesting things to tell of electric development.

STATE POTATO CROP IS SHORT

Crop In United States To Be Much Larger Than Last Year, However

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—The Pennsylvania potato crop this year will be approximately 3,000,000 bushels less than a year ago and about 2,500,000 bushels less than the average according to the latest estimates of the Federal-State Crop Reporting office. This lower production will result in Pennsylvania dropping from third to sixth place among the leading potato producing states.

The crop for the entire United States will be approximately 45,000,000 bushels below the average but 25,000,000 bushels larger than the very short crop of last year. The Maine crop is four per cent over last year and the New York crop 30 per cent above the very light crop of 1925. The Michigan and Wisconsin crops average 15 per cent above last year.

The condition of the Pennsylvania crop is 74 per cent of normal as compared with 82 per cent last year. The north tier of counties and the extreme southeastern section are slightly above the average for the state. The heavy producing district in the eastern part including Lehigh county is below the average with the south central counties even lower.

Consumers in Pennsylvania will make no mistake in buying their winter supply of potatoes this fall providing they get well sprayed stock which is free from rot state officials say. For greatest economy potatoes should not be purchased in less than bushel quantities as they can be readily stored in a cool, dry place without loss.

Minimum Speed Is Now Suggested

Pennsylvania Motor Federation May Ask Legislature For Action

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16—Whether the Pennsylvania Motor Federation will ask the legislature to fix a minimum speed limit, under which no moter vehicle may travel on Pennsylvania highways, has been referred to the Federation's legislative committee, chairmaned by Charles W. Eaby of Lancaster.

The state highway department has figures which show that 80 per cent of accidents on state highways occur on straight, level, dry road sections. It is the contention of a portion of the Motor Federation's executive committee that accidents on straight road sections occur many times because habitually slow drivers cause cutting-in and cutting out on the part of drivers who have somewnere to go; that while they may not actually be involved in an accident these slow drivers are responsible. Other members of the executive committee say not; that if the state were to enforce a higher minimum there would be more accidents. The legislative committee, which is making an investigation, is securing data from those states in which motor patrolmen and state police have been ordered to keep al traffic moving faster than 30 miles an hour on the open highway.

Man Is Shot With "Unloaded" Gun

(International News Service)

TORONTO, O., Oct. 16.—Charles Hissan, 20, of Toronto, is in a critical condition in Ohio Valley hospital at Steubenville, O., from a bullet wound, a victim of an "unloaded" revolver, according to witnesses.

A six-year-old neighbor's boy was playing with a .25 caliber automatic last night when it exploded and penetrated Hissan's right side.

BURNS PROVED FATAL TO WIFE, HUSBAND IS SUING FOR $10,575

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Oct. 16.—Charging that Ernest Shafer, 24 years old, of Mineral City, was careless on August 22 when he held a lighted cigar near the gas tank that was being filled and caused an explosion that ignited his wife's clothes and burned her so severely that she died the next day, John Schneider, aged proprietor of a filling station on the road to Canton, filed suit for $10,575 in common pleas court against Shafer. The petition also sets forth that after the woman's clothes ignited Shafer refused to aid in extinguishing the fire. A coroner's inquest later exonerated Shafer and attributed Mrs. Schneider's death to accidental burning.

It's almost time for the corn crop to be ruined.

NEW COD LIVER OIL TASTES FINE!

There's No Longer Any Excuse for "Weak Women!"

At last, cod liver oil that you don't have to "down"! Coco cod will buck you up—and it tastes so good you will lick the spoon!

Pure cod liver oil with the old taste taken out! All you can taste is a delectable chocolaty flavor—rich and full—a taste that tempts you to take more. And within a few days, you'll feel and look years younger.

Don't deny yourself—or the children—the marvelous benefits that always follow cod liver oil! If it has been hard to take in the past, it's a pleasure now. A glorious discovery; cod liver oil that all can take with a smile!

Coco cod is genuine cod liver oil—and it has, too, a number of vitalizing vitamins that bring sparkling health. Ask your doctor. Then go to the nearest druggist's and get just one bottle of this concentrated goodness.

Sunday Afternoon And Evening,

October 17

First Presbyterian Church

Dr. G. A. Leichliter, Buffalo, N. Y.

Afternoon Mass Meeting Beginning at 3:00 O'clock

Evening Mass Meeting Beginning at 7:30 O'clock

A day of spiritual feasting, of religious recreation.

For every creed, for every man and woman in New Castle.

Dr. Leichliter will be the main speaker at the meetings. In addition there will be short talks by nationally known mission men, whose stories of their experience will grip you.

For the afternoon mass meeting a musical treat is waiting for you. The Apollo Club, comprising 25 male voices will sing under the direction of Richard E. Johns, with Miss Marie Snyder at the piano. Dr. Leichliter and Peter Quartel will be heard in some of those duets which have won them a place in the hearts of New Castle men and women.

There is going to be a crowd. Get in early and get a seat.

Russians Acquire Taste For Sports

Soccer Football Popular In Soviet Russia; Officials Are Scarce

SIBERIA IS FILLING UP

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Oct. 16—Russians are rapidly acquiring a taste for western sports. They have learned the proper method of handling an umpire, or referee as the case may be. Before the Moscow provincial court has just been tried the case of two enthusiastic football fans who, in the moment of defeat, blamed it on the referee and beat him up so badly that he spent two weeks in a hospital.

The occasion was a match between the two teams "Rusgkabel" and "Kor," most noted of the Moscow soccer clubs. Stefan Toitzky, star brokenfield runner for the "Russkabel" boys made the mistake of kicking one of his opponents in the ribs while the referee was looking. Referee Yousefovith put him out of the game.

With the loss of Toitzky, the "Kor" boys had no difficulty in carrying off the bacon. The score ended in their favor 3 to 1. But the crowd, which often numbers up to 10,000 at big Moscow games, and this instance was unusually large elected to continue the match on its own accord.

Flocking on to the field, the "Russkabel" supporters surrounded the lonely referee and gave him a bad fifteen minutes. After police made a flying wedge and rescued the unfortunate official he was carried off the field unconscious. Two of the chief agitators tried for assault, have just been sentenced to three months in prison.

More than 900 persons a day are now visiting the Moscow Pasteur Institute to be treated for incipient rabies caused by the bites of mad animals. The crowd of applicants is so much larger than the capacity of the institution that appeal has been made for more funds.

The present epidemic of hydrophobia among domestic animals is blamed by experts on the extraordinary number of mad wolves which appeared this summer on the outskirts of Moscow and other large cities. Squads of hunters sent out by the government to exterminate the wolves report little success. Their dogs, ordinarily brave in the face of wolves show terror at the sight of mad wolves and refuse to fight. The few which fail to run fast enough are bitten by the mad wolves and thus transmit the infection to the whole dog population.

According to the General Statistical Bureau, the damage caused by wolves during the year just closing October 1, amounted to $25,000,000 throughout the Union. More than 1,000,000 head of domestic animals were killed by wolves during the year.

If wolves cost the peasants great losses, embezzlers cost the government still more. In the city of Leningrad alone, the Attorney General has just reported embezzlements for the last six months cost the municipality $2,000,000.

Siberia is gradually filling up, even to its uttermost ends. Far-off Kamchatka, the peninsula which runs down the side of eastern Siberia into the north Pacific ocean, across from Alaska, is now the goal of a large party of emigrants. Five hundred persons living in the vicinity of Vladivostock have appealed to the government for permission to settle on Kamchatka, where free land is to be had for the taking.

Prisoners Taken To The Workhouse

Four prisoners in the county jail were taken to the Allegheny county workhouse yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Earl Atkins and Kenneth Musser, special deputy. Those taken were W. A. Rowan, who is to serve one year; Nick Milazzi, one year; Dave Jones, six months and Ralph Davis, six months. All are liquor cases. On the way back Deputy Atkins took Charles McCowan into custody at East Pittsburg and brought him to the county jail. He was brought in on a process issued by the court.

ABE MARTIN — On Intimate Touches

COMMISSIONER WES MOOTS NAILIN' UP A DETOUR SIGN.

Nat Pusey, our county treasurer, kin iron soft collars as good as any woman, an' that suggests t' me that we ought t' know more about th' inside workin's o' those we elect t' office, litle intimate things that throw some light on ther real characters. We're too much given t' regard our public officials as somehow different from ordinary mortals, as bein' above th' commonplace, as havin' no human side, as knowin' little o' th' domestic side o' life, as bein' completely saturated an' bound up in officialdom. This feelin' or impression got a severe setback some years ago when th' news wuz flashed around th' world that President Coolidge's hobby wuz makin' doughnuts. County Surveyor Steve Dunston is known only as our county surveyor. We think o' him as a surveyor. His home life hain't been questioned. Whether his wife is on an allowance, whether he reads books, or knos how t' milk or kin crochet has never bothered th' voters. However, he has a homey side an' is not infrequently seen with his wife' an' kin sew a button on a union suit without takin' it off. Somehow I've allus stood in awe o' Laurel Mapes, county treasurer, seemin'ly cold auster, honest, business like, an' exclusive t' all appearances. A man who'd raise h— if dinner wuzn' ready, a wife cowerin' czar. Yit I'm told he gits his own breakfast, has't smoke on the' porch, makes his own bed, an' his wife's sister lives with them fer nothin'. How many people know anything about County Commissioner Wes Moots as long as he's held offfice, an' as long as they've voted for him? We associate him with gravel pits, an' detours, an' mules, an' scrap t'backer, but we can't imagine him shaved up an' settin' in a house with women an' children. Often, after wadin' around in th' mud all day, or cleanin' out a sewer, he'll go home an' make th' finest fudge you ever sunk a tooth in. 'Squire Marsh Swallow is perhaps our most widely known official. Fer over a quarter o' a century he's thrived on the frailty o' humanity, yet his inner life has scarcely been scratched. Th' public knows him fer a cold-nosed, exactin', an' heartless dispenser o' justice no matter where th' chips fall. Th' truth is he calls his wife up five or six times a day, is an authority on zinnias an' raises Manx cats t' sell. Besides he's a lively contributor t' th' home fer blind accordion players. How many folks that ever got their mail out o' th' general delivery would guess that Ray Hanger, th' clerk, wuz one o' th' most affable fellers we have t' meet on an excursion? I expect lots o' folks feel sorry fer Marriage License Clerk Finley Tharp. He's so colorless, an, helpless lookin', an' he married so young. Apparently he hain't got a thing t' commend him. He's jest th' sterotyped inefficient, harmless, common run o' pokey public official hangin' on by some unseen pull. But I'm told he's a bear in his home, plays th' guitar, makes beer, entertains lavishly an' his rakeoff fer a single evenin' at home often runs as high as $17.

Here And There Over The State

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD — Mumps, diphtheria and infantile paralysis have developed here since the schools opened and physicians have cautioned parents in the care of the children to prevent the spread of the diseases.

GETTYSBURG—Don Bream, a Gettysburg lad, an ardent baseball fan and considered the best authority on the national game in Adams county, has received a baseball autographed with the names of the players on the St. Louis National League team. The ball was the gift of Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Cardinals, and Bill Sherdel, Cardinal pitcher and a native of Adams county.

DUBOIS — This city has been aroused enthusiastically over the report that the Ford interests of Detroit were planning to construct a huge airplane factory here. John Dubois, owner of the property involved has announced that there was nothing to the rumors.

GREENVILLE — Cherry tree leaves have been fatal to cattle in this vicinity. Two cows, owned by Hudson Bean, of Clarke's Mill, near here, placed in a pasture where cherry trees were growing, ate the leaves and were poisoned, it is said.

INDIANA — All cattle in Indiana county will be tested for the second time this year by the bureau of animal industry. The test will be conducted in November. The test in September revealed 1.8 per cent reactors. In order to qualify as an accredited area there must be less than .5 per cent reactors.

KITTANNING — With the cutting of a clump of trees along the Allegheny river went a popular "speak-easy joint," according to officers. City solons ordered the trees cut and the "saloon" bared to view went out of business.

HAZLETON—Police have begun a search for reported "newspaper theives." Residents of the city have complained that they arise in the morning to find that their newspapers have been stolen. Police are of the opinion that the thefts will be traced to workingmen enroute to their places of employment.

WILLIAMSPORT—In accordance with a recently enacted city ordinance arrests are expected here of radio owners who have placed their aerials too close to high tension lines. Radio fans have been warned against stringing their aerials in a hap-hazard manner, and according to city officials, arrests of the violators are now in order.

HAZLETON—For the first time in twenty five years the Trout Lake Ice Company's plant at Reeders, near here, has been closed down. The cold summer made little demand for ice, caused a supply to accumulate at the plant and resulted in the discontinuance of operation, according to the management. The ice supply is being put in shape for keeping until next summer.

Longest Foot Bridge In U. S.?

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 16—A foot bridge across the Youghiogheny river, near here, connecting Jacobs Creek with Van Meter, a mining camp, is said to be the longest bridge of its kind in the country.

The bridge is three feet wide and 432 feet long. It is supported on steel towers 32 feet high by six 1-inch cables.

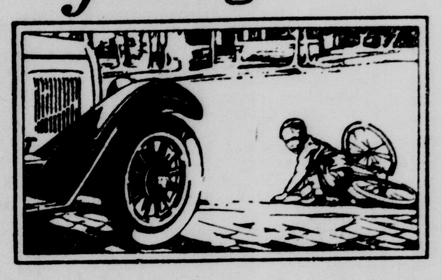

GIRL IS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Oct. 16.—Levohn Hootman, 12 years old, daughter of Charles Hootman, Beaver Dam road, was killed instantly near her home, three miles east of here, when she was struck by the automobile driven by Joseph Murray, a neighbor, when he was blinded by the sun and while he was watching two other automobiles approaching. The child was going to a neighbor's home for milk. Her skull and right arm were fractured.

To Which Class Do You Belong?

People are divided into two classes as to the way they use their money—wasteful people and careful people. Which are you?

If you are careful with your money, you will get ahead. If you are wasteful, you will not.

It doesn't make much difference how much you earn, or how much you have, waste will ultimately consume it.

It doesn't make much difference how little you earn, or how little you have, careful use of money will bring you some measure of financial success.

GIRLHOOD TO MOTHERHOOD

Iowa Woman Found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Always Helpful

Vinton, Iowa.—"When I was seventeen years old I had to stay at home from school. I finally had to quit school, I was so weak. I suffered for about two years before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, then I picked up one of your books and read it. I began taking the medicine. Now I am a housekeeper with six children, and I have taken it before each one was born. I cannot tell you all the good I have received from it. When I am not as well as can be I take it. I have been doing this for over thirteen years and it always helps me. I read all of your little books I can get and I tell everyone I know what the Vegetable Compound does for me."—Mrs. Frank Sellers, 510 7th Avenue, Vinton, Iowa.

Many girls in the fourth generation are learning thru their own personal experiences the beneficial effects of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mothers who took it recommend it to their daughters as a dependable medicine.

The lady we saw coming out of a beauty shop yesterday must have been in there for some other purpose.

Hiking Club Has Supper, Elects New Officers Friday Eve.

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 16.—Ellwood City Hikers enjoyed a long hike down the Connoquenessing trail starting from Ewing Park on Friday afternoon and following the river course circling it thru Wurtemburg, returning to the First Presbyterian church about 6 o'clock where a delicious lunch was served by the committee comprising Miss Jane Gemmil, Miss Sally Golden, Miss Virginia Kerr and Miss Lucille Graham.

Following the dinner a business session was conducted and the following officers were elected: Miss Catherine Lundgren, president; Donald Parkinson, vice president; Miss Mary Streeter, secretary, and Miss Margaret Benford, treasurer.

Reception At Big Council Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 16.—A reception for Mrs. Joseph Thompson, department president of the American Legion auxiliary will be the feature of the four county luncheon at the dining room of the First Presbyterian church of Beaver Falls Thursday October 21. A number from the local auxiliary are planning to attend.

FUNERAL SERVICES

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 16.—Funeral services for Mrs. Clementine Fisher, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. J. Haswell, of Second street, on Tuesday evening following a short illness, were held at the home of her daughter yesterday afternoon and were attended by a large circle of friends and relatives. The deceased was a daughter of the late James and Fannie Pander, lifelong residents of Franklin township, and had lived in this vicinity her entire lifetime.

Her husband, Simon Fisher, preceded her in death a number of years. Interment was made in Hickory Nell cemetery.

Railroad Asks Permission To Acquire Terminal

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The Allegheny and Western railroad asked the Interstate Commerce commission today for authority to acquire control by lease of the Allegheny terminal company at Pittsburgh. If the application is granted the road will assign the lease to the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh of which it is a subsidiary.

POLICEMAN FELLS BULL CHARGING ON STUDENTS

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—No strain of toreador blood runs in the veins of Patrolman William Beilfuss, and so when a Durham bull broke out of a stockyards pen and invaded the campus of the Englewood high school, sending 500 students into a panic, the patrolman was nonplussed.

He had no red cloak to wave, so he tried to drive instead of beckon, and found himself sprawled on the pavement. A fellow-officer shot the animal, amid the applause of a thousand spectators.

A lot of Americans coming back from Europe are broke and others were not tourists.

Queen Marie Will Rival "Red" Grange According To Plan

Roumanian Queen Spurred By Criticism Of Own Country, Plans To Pay Her Way

Many Offers Await Arrival Of Royal Queen; Even Movie Magnates Interested

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Queen Marie of Rumania has decided to earn the price of her trip to America, it was reliably reported here today.

Spurred on by criticism in her own country of her expensive journey at a time when economic conditions are unsatisfactory, it is understood the queen is prepared to "do a Red Grange" on her arrival in New York.

Queen Marie perfumes, toilet waters, gowns and other articles will make their appearance, with the direct or indirect endorsement of her royal highness, it is said.

The offers which many business firms are said to have made her business agent are reported to be at such startling figures that the queen believes she is justified in departing from royal precedent to accept some of them.

Although the queen has indicated she would not consider an offer of $25,000 for one day in the movies, it is reported that she is not adverse to writing a few scenarios.

With hotel and railroad accommodations reported to be free, it is said the queen expects to return to Rumania with a nice bank balance to swell the funds she has been raising for needy children.

Cotton Broker Dies Suddenly In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—George H. McFadden, 79, well known cotton broker and a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad died suddenly at his home here early today.

McFadden was the senior member of the firm of George H. McFadden and brother here, with branch offices in Liverpool and other European cities. He was also a director of numerous banks here and well known as one of the chief benefactors of the University of Pennsylvania. He is survived by two sons and a daughter.

DAYLIGHT LAWS NOT WITHIN JURISDICTION OF COURT, TAFT SAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Daylight savings laws like those of Massachusetts present no interference with federal rights and raise no questions over which federal courts have jurisdiction, the supreme court ruled in dismissing a case appealed by the Massachusetts state grange, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and others.

The announcement made by Chief Justice Taft followed an oral argument by counsel for the appellants who insisted the federal government, having by act of congress established standard time, occupied the field to the exclusion of the states, but Chief Justice Taft stated the court would follow the lower court in dismissing the proceedings for want of jurisdiction.

THREE BABY BUNNIES

Pat was a first-rate story teller. He made Peter feel as though he were right in the woods with Pat.

"'Ki-yi, Ki-oodle. I know what this is!' yelped I. 'Here's a Rabbit burrow or I'm no Terrier!' With my nose I scattered the twigs and leaves, and sure enough I was right. Hidden under them was the doorway to the Rabbits' home, and it was wide open, as Bunnies' doorways always are. But that doesn't mean that anybody can step right into their living room. Dear me, no! The hall that leads from the door to the room is very long and very winding and not very wide. No one but a Bunny can get through it easily. A stranger must dig his way in. Sure I knew this well, and there was no sport I liked better. I started in to dig, and I dug and I dug, down, down, down—and at last I dug out—what are you thinking?"

"How should I guess? What?" demanded Peter.

"The roof of Bunnies' bedroom!" declared Pat. "What I saw then made me ashamed of myself. Huddled in one corner, shaking and shivering with fright, were three baby Bunnies. 'Eeee! Don't come in here! Go 'way, bad Dog!' squealed they, and buried their pink noses in each other's fur.

"They were very little and very cute and almost scared to death, and I hadn't the heart to so much as poke them with my nose, though if Father and Mother Bunny had been at home 'tis a merry chase I'd have sent them on. I yelped as softly as I could.

"'Don't be scared, baby Bunnies. I'l not hurt you!' And I turned away and left them. I built up the walls of the burrow as well as I could, patted down the earth with my paws, and when I reached the doorway I tossed the leaves and the twigs back in place so that no less kindhearted Dog should discover it. When I had finished I happened to glance up and there watching me from behind a tree trunk were two bright eyes. 'Mamma Bunny', thought I. Up went my nose. Snif, sni! 'You're right!' it told me. My nose knew right away to whom those eyes belonged. I began to tremble. My, how I wanted to make that Rabbit run: Almost my feet carried me to the tree. But I thought of those three frightened baby Bunnies. What would they do without a mamma?

"'Now, Pat, don't be after breaking up a happy family for your own selfish pleasure', said I to myself, and I turned my back upon Mamma Bunny and trotted away."

Edwards Home Center For New Castle People

Interesting Letter Tells Of Happenings Among Former Residents Of This City

In a letter received by Mrs. John Evans of South Mill street from Miss Katheryn Edwards well known nurse and former resident of this city, now residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edwards, also former residents of this city, at Pico, Cal., there is information of interest concerning former New Castle people now residing in California.

It tells of the fact that quite frequently the Edwards home is the center of gatherings of New Castle people. It also states that Mr. and Mrs. John S. Rogers, formerly of this city and more recently of Wierton, W. Va., are now enroute to Los Angeles, to make their home in California.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Price, also of this city, the former being remembered as a baritone singer of rare ability, have opened up a grocery store in Los Angeles and are doing fine, their store attracting many former residents of this city now in that part of the country.

Miss Edwards also states that she expects to go to Paris next year for the legion convention and that on her way home she expects to stop over here and visit friends.

PENN FAVORED TO DEFEAT CHICAGO GRIDDERS

Penn Maintains Excellent Record

Penn Has Won Four And Tied One With Chicago; Mid-West Teams Due

BETTING FAVORS EASTERN SCHOOL

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 16.—Pennsylvania and Chicago, more or less sincere prototypes of Eastern and Middle Western football, will meet this afternoon on Franklin Field in a further resumption of their intermittent relationship and, six weeks hence, it may be that the outcome will exercise an abiding influence on the comparative reputations of two great sections. Neither has lost a game to date but that detail probably will be attended to this afternoon.

The smart money has picked Chicago to finish second, largely because of Pennsylvania's rather impressive early season record in which it has averaged more than forty points in three games, as to that, Stagg's Maroon team is reputed to be better equipped than the 1925 outfit, in spite of a wholesale loss of stars.

Among the latter are McCarty, the "five yard" gent; Bob Curley kicker of field goals; Henderson, a fine tackle; Lampe, a good end, and Timme, one of the regular backs. They gave the team a fine running attack but it lacked passing finesse. Today, it will have a sound attacking threat in Marks and, according to Pennsylvania scouts, a passing game employed with considerable deception.

It happens to be Alonzo Stagg's thirty fourth year as coach at Chicago and he has been around too long to be unwilling to adapt his system to the material at hand. Chicago had to be a reasonably good team to beat Florida and Maryland as it did.

In fact, it may be that it was a better team in those games than Pennsylvania was in its first three, in spite of its high scores. It didn't meet the best in the world in Franklin and Marshall, Johns Hopkins and Swarthmore.

Penn also has stepped out with something new this year. It is a hidden ball attack, such as was used with marked success at Harvard and elsewhere some seasons ago. One must have the men to carry this business on successfully and Penn claims it has them in Murphy, the new quarterback, and Rogers and Fields, halfbacks. The latter is a reserve back who usually is turned loose in the fading moments of the game when the opposition is leg laden.

The passing combination of Rogers to Thayer, which beat Chicago last year, also will be available. This was Pennsylvania's fourth victory over the Maroon in five stars, the other resulting in a tie; so Chicago is a trifle overdue.

Joe Dundee Wins Over Jack Zivic

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Jack Zivic of Pittsburgh lost to Joe Dundee of Baltimore in a great 10 round bout at Madison Square Garden last night. It was one of the hardest tests the Baltimorean has had.

The fight was a thriller from start to finish and slugging predominated. Dundee's ring generalship carried Dundee to victory.

Tech Is Favored To Defeat Pitt

Annual Battle Between Pittsburgh Schools Occurs Next Saturday

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct 16.—The University of Pittsburgh will not be the favorite in its annual game with Carnegie Tech which will be played in the Panther Stadium here next Saturday, for the first time in the history of the bitterly contested intra-city duel.

Pitt's 17-7 defeat by Lafayette, coupled with the strength Carnegie has shown in all its games thus far have served to switch the mantle of popular favor on the Tartans.

The game which has risen in importance rapidly in the last half dozen years is now considered the classic of Western Pennsylvania and it is expected that all attendance records for the Pitt bowl will be broken.

Since their reversal at Lafayette's hands the Panthers have shown a general improvement in play and although they hardly can expect to escape unscathed for the remainder of the year, facing a card that still includes games with Carnegie, West Virginia, Penn State and W. and J. they are counted on to battle gamely down to the finish.

The work of Tiny Linn captain of the Pitt track team at left guard has been outstanding thus far and he already is receiving much attention from critics. He is one of the speediest of the team's big men and is a rugged defensive player.

Bessemer Game Is Protested By Union Eleven

Bessemer and Union High football teams did not complete the game at Bessemer on Friday afternoon. A dispute arose during the latter part of the game and failure to settle it satisfactorily to both teams resulted in the Union coach taking his team from the field and protesting the game.

At that time Bessemer was leading by six points, having scored two field goals during the first half. The game was an unusually rough contest.

In the first quarter Union played a fine game against their much heavier and rough opponents. In the second there was a good bit of excitement as Bessemer advanced the ball to the 25-yard line. Grist the fullback, then dropkicked the ball over the goal from an angle. A short time later Bessemer recovered a Union fumble on the 35-yard line and Grist made another fine dropkick of 35 yards for three points.

The trouble that marred the game came when in kicking off at the beginning of the second half Bessemer tried the trick of kicking only 10 yards and then recovering the ball. As the head linesman claimed his back was turned when the play was made and the umpire apparently didn't know what was to be done ,the referee had to give the decision and Union lost the ball.

After four downs the Union boys gained the ball and started on a march up the field. Captain Schiek started the rally with a 40-yard run. After three or four more plays the discussion arose if it were fourth down and one to go, or Bessemer's ball.

It remained for Coaches Burnham and Byler to decide, Burnham refusing to call it Bessemer's ball and Byler refusing to give Union one more down with only a yard to go, and then 15 yards to the goal. After 15 minutes of this squabble the Union boys were marched off the field to their buss by their coach, and the game was protested on the ground of inefficient officials.

Although in the lead at the calling of the game, there was no real star or fine play, for Bessemer, except in the two fine field goals that would be hard to beat, while for Union the boys put up a wonderful fight, Shiek starring with a 40-yard run through the whole team of opponents. Anneralla, Funkhouser and Keller also played excellently for the locals.

The line-up:

Bessemer—		—Union
McComb	R. E.	Funkhouser
Seltzer	R. T.	Hughes
Williams	R. G.	Wiech
Macklin	C.	Wochner
Serjah	L. G.	Hoffmeister
Mack	L. T.	Anneralla
Nord	L. E.	Reck
Glassic	Q. B.	Keller
Sheffler	L. H.	Carr
Stanich	R. H.	Thompson
Grist	F. B.	Shiek

For Bessemer the subs were: Manewell for Williams; Young for Stanich; Williams for Serjuck.

Referee: Shaw, Westminster.

Umpire—Knight.

Head linesman—Dr. Mae.

Time of quarters—15 and 12 minutes.

Do Football And Baseball Mix?

BY FEG MURRAY

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

It has long been a debated question whether or not football and baseball mix to advantage, and this writer stands strongly on the affirmative side of the case. Those who claim that successful participation in both sports is not possible to the majority of athletes usually cite the case of Jim Thorpe as proof, and seem to think that because one of the greatest football players of all-time was a flop in the majors, and various lesser gridiron stars have also failed on the diamond, that the debate is won.

But for every Thorpe, Killinger, Haines, Workman, Harley, Mohardt, Castner, and Uteritz who shone in college football and who failed to shine in Big League baseball, you can name a Mathewson, an Overall, a Frisch, a Collins, a Cochrane, a Gehrig, a Sewell, or a French who made good in the majors after a successful career as a college gridiron star. And friends, that is only half of it, for there is also a host of others, including men like Alonzo Stagg, Tad Jones, Ted Coy, and Mack Tidrich of Yale; Jim Cooney and Sam White of Princeton; Sam Felton, Eddie Mahan, "Tack" Hardwick, and George Owen of Harvard; and Charlie Barrett of Cornell—all of whom starred in both sports and never went on into pro baseball after graduation, even though they surely could have made good if they had wanted to try it.

Then there are men like Hugo Bezdek, Neale, Charlie Moran, and Ernie Quigley, who successfully have combined football and baseball; Bezdek as coach of the one and manager of the other, Neale as a star ball player and later football coach, Moran as an umpire and coach, and Quigley as a baseball umpire and football official.

Usually, I think, the reason that many football heroes flop when they get into major league baseball, is because they are either signed up mostly on their football reputation, or else the wear and tear of the gridiron has incapacitated them for real diamond usage.

Other famous ball-players who also played intercollegiate football are Chief Bender, of Carlisle and the Athletics; Carl Lundgren, of Illinois and the Cubs; Dave Fultz, of Brown and the Phillies; Ralph Glaze, of Dartmouth and the Red Sox; Garland Stahl, of Illinois and the Red Sox; Riggs Stephenson, of Alabama and the Indians; Mike Gazella, of Lafayette and the Yankees; Henry Vick, of Michigan and the Cardinals; Ernie Nevers of Stanford and the Browns; and Paul Florence and Andy Cohen, of the Giants, who came from Georgetown and Alabama, respectively.

Feg Murray Says—

Mary Browne, the pro tennis player, could certainly enter an amateur tournament disguised as "Mary Green" or "Mary White." Almost all tennis officials give evidence of blindness, and perhaps they are color blind, too.

Harry Wills Reaches His Proper Place

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Harry Wills is in his proper place—oblivion.

I was chided some two or three months ago when I said that, regardless of Jack Dempsey's possible conditions, the chances of his next opponent defeating him and all other matters pertaining to a possible heavyweight title fight that Wills was not eligible to consideration as an opponent for Dempsey.

I pointed out that he had never done anything that could be used legitimately as an argument in his favor. A victory over the fallen Firpo and one over Bartley Madden, old trial horse, were his main claims to fame.

His putrid showing against Jack Sharkey the other night substantiates my judgement. He has no further reason for fighting, except to earn a living. It is doubtful if the purses he draws from now will net him more than his former duties as stevedore.

As for Paddy Mullins, his manager. Paddy overplayed his hand. So much so that the thinking public had guessed the truth before Tunney was selected as the logical opponent for Dempsey. The fact that Wills refused to fight during the bally-hoo period was self explanatory. Mullins must find another meal ticket now. And he will have to convince the public through the old fashioned method of letting said meal ticket fight that he has someone with the goods.

The big league moguls are swinging their axes. George Sisler's head has dropped into the basket. Those of Lee Fohl, Ty Cobb, Bill McKechnie and possibly Tris Speaker are to follow, says Dame Rumor.

More of Sisler's demise elsewhere. Suffice it to say that his departure was expected in view of the failure of his team to come through. Lee Fohl's future at Boston is in doubt because of his inability, after considerable time, to mold together some semblance of a team. Ty Cobb's failure to literally carry his team to victory with the mighty power of his bat, his base running and his fielding, has spelled his doom.

The suggestion that Tris Speaker may leave the Indians is interesting in view of the fact that the team, picked to finish sixth or worse last spring, finished second and almost nosed the Yankees out of the pennant. The remarkable playing of George Burns, the pitching of George Uhle, the sudden reversal of form of Lutzke at third, and other factors must be rated as the main reason, but nevertheless Speaker was the boss.

There came occasional criticisms of his work during the summer, but his failure to yank pitcher Levsen in one of the crucial games with the Yanks at the close of the season and his failure to insert a pinch hitter in a Boston game that followed drew the wrath of the local scribes and fans.

Speaker was signed for the 1926 season in the middle of the 1925 campaign to quiet rumors that he was not to be retained this year. He has not been signed for next year as yet.

There is, however, one thing to be borne in mind regarding Speaker's job. It was one of the requests of the late Jim Dunn, owner of the ball club, that Spoke be retained as manager, along with Barnard as president and Walter McNichols as secretary, during Mrs. Dunn's connection with the club. She still owns the club.

This Is Crucial Year for Rodgers; Must Hold Fame Of Mountaineers

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 16.—Coach Errett Rodgers, now in the midst of his second campaign as director of the football forces of West Virginia University, is confronted with the difficult problem of "Making good."

During the seasons of 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1919 Rodgers earned the distinction of being one of the greatest football players in the country. He was fullback on Walter Camp's all-American in 1917 and 1919, and was designated as captain of the mythical outfit in the latter year. It was in 1919 that he led the Mountaineers to a swamping 25-0 victory over Princeton at Palmer stadium.

From 1920 to 1924 he served as first assistant football coach at West Virginia, freshman basketball coach, and varsity baseball coach. When Dr. Clarence W. Spears left West Virginia in the summer of 1925 to go to the University of Minnesota Rodgers was designated as head football coach.

Had Winner Last Year

He came through the 1925 season in fine shape, his team defeating Allegheny, Davis-Elkins, Grove City, W. Va. Wesleyan, Washington and Lee, Boston College, Penn State, and Washington and Jefferson. The only defeat was a 15-7 defeat early in the season by the University of Pittsburgh. The Panthers were the only team to cross the Mountaineers' goal line. The only other points scored against them were registered from a field goal kicked by Grove City.

But many West Virginia supporters said that Rodgers' success was due in large part to the wealth of veteran material that Spears had left and to their knowledge of his system. The real test of Rodgers' ability comes this season as he has had to build an eleven out of a squad largely composed of sophomores.

The only regulars from the 1925 squad that Rodgers has to work with were Captain McHenry, guard; Ed Morrison, quarterback, and Ches Latham, center, who was a product of Rodgers system, since he made the varsity only last year.

But in addition to working with skimpy material, Rodgers was called upon to prepare for a schedule of ten games, with Davis-Elkins, Washington and Lee, Allegheny, Georgetown, W. Va. Wesleyan, Missiouri, Pittsburgh, Centre, Carnegie Tech and Washington and Jefferson. This schedule calls for the Mountaineers to meet the rugged Carnegie Tech eleven on the Saturday before the Thanksgiving day battle with W. & J.

Win Early Games

The Mountaineers came through their first three battles in unexpectedly fine shape. They beat Davis-Elkins 18 to 6 in the opening game, about the same margin to which D. & E. held the Army two weeks later. They then administered an 18-0 trouncing to Washington and Lee, which a week later tied Princeton 7 to 7 and outplayed the Tiger rather decisively. In their third game, they humiliated by a 54-0 score an Allegheny eleven that in its two previous games had held Pittsburgh to a 9-7 score and New York University to a 13-0 count.

Mountaineer fans now feel that Rodgers has demonstrated his ability as a coach, regardless of the outcome of the stiffer games ahead. They recognize the scarcity of material with which he is working and are not expecting an undefeated eleven this season.

New Castle And Butler High To Battle Today

Grid Game Here This Afternoon Starts At 2:30 O'clock Eastern Standard Time

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh sent the New Castle High gridders through their final workout Friday afternoon prior to the game today with Butler High. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock at the Ben Franklin field.

The team went through a light signal drill yesterday afternoon and after an hour of this business were excused until game time today. Coach Bridenbaugh feels confident that New Castle will come through with a victory today over the ancient rivals.

Boston Braves Get New Outfielder

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 16.—The deal whereby Lance Richbourg, Milwaukee American Association club outfielder, goes to the Boston National League Club, has been completed by the announcement of the Milwaukee club that Harry Riconda, infielder, and Frank Wilson, outfielder, have been released to Milwaukee. In addition to these players, there was a cash stipulation.

Cello Wins Bout From Al Gordon

Juniors Trim Ben Franklin

First Class League Defeat In Three Years Suffered By Franklin Team, 33 To 6

WOODWORTH IS STAR OF BATTLE

The Juniors of the Senior High school defeated the Ben Franklin eleven Friday by a score of 33 to 6 before a large crowd of student fans of both factions.

The Junior eleven started their crushing tactics early and before the first quarter was over there was no doubt as to who would be the victors. George Mike the star right tackle of the Juniors broke through the line soon after play began and picking up a fumble and dashed across the line for the first score of the game. From there on there was nothing to the game for the Juniors were successful in shooting plays through the Ben Franklin line time after time and the lighter Ben Franklin team could not muster the strength to repell the Juniors.

The first defeat for a Ben Franklin team in three years of interclass football was marked down in the record books today and it was a very weary bunch of football players that wended their way to the Franklin shower rooms, but no team can go on winning forever and the Franklinites can be proud of the fight they offered to the Juniors.

Lineup:

Ben Franklin.		Juniors.
Linton	L. E.	Christman
Johns	L. T.	Frampton
(C) Bares	L. G.	Montgomery
Wagoner	C.	Swietzer

Gibson	R. T.	Mike
Cicone	R. E.	Kulich
Hanna	Q. B.	(C) Woodw'th
Hawn	L. H.	Usselton
Burlew	R. H.	G. Thomas
Mitchell	F. B.	Harris

Touchdowns: Mike, Woodworth 2, G. Thomas, Harris.

Point after touchdown: Kulich 3.

Substitutions: Ben Franklin, Nader for Dout; Shepp for Johns; Wright for Cicone, Ciazano for Dout.

Juniors: Weaver for Usselton; Dobleck for Montgomery; Borvalis for Dobleck; Latavo for Frampton; Jermico for Borvalis; Jenkins for Christman; Blaha for Latavo; Montgomery for Harris; Daino for Weaver; McFall for Dufford.

Referee, "Scoots" Nelson.

Umpire, Bill Klee.

Head linesman, Jack Christman.

Timer, John Melder.

Time of quarters 10 minutes.

Young Bulldogs Top Buccaneers

Dan's Young Bulldogs defeated the Buccaneer Midgets 18 to 14 in a game played on Friday.

The Bulldogs have now won two games from the Midgets, the first game resulting in a 12 to 6 victory. Frank Fontana, the Bulldog halfback, scored both touchdowns in the first game.

Thomas Fontana is coach of the team. The team will enter the Dan's Place football contest, it was said today.

Committees For Legion Named

New Officers Are Installed At Meeting Held On Friday Evening

LEGION BALL IS BEING PLANNED

Post Commander Harry M. Long, and his corps of officers who will head the Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion for the coming year were inducted into office Friday evening, October 15, when the regular meeting of the post was held in the Legion Home.

Little was done in the way of routine business, the evening being given over to the installation services, Past Commander Edward C. Hoye, acting as Installation Officer.

Many Committees

The new commander believes in spreading the work out among many committees and to that end has appointed committees to carry on the work during the next year.

One of the important pieces of work to be done will be the membership drive, and for this committee Ivor V. Davis was appointed as chairman. The Executive Committee also has an important piece of work to do in the preparation of a budget for the coming year.

Attorney Clarence A. Patterson was appointed as adjutant of the post, and Attorney William J. Caldwell as Parliamentarian. Following the installation services, the retiring commander, Attorney W. Walter Braham gave a report on the plans for the First Annual Legion Ball which will be held sometime in the near future.

The committees appointed by Commander Long follow:

Disabled Soldiers and Medical Aid—Harold Blewitt, chairman, Dr. Charles C. Dickey, Dr. Ray C. Lutz, Dr. R. G. Campbell, Pat J. Dempsey.

Americanism—W. Walter Braham, chairman, Ivor V. Richards, Clarence A. Patterson, J. E. Moorehead, Orville Brown, P. J. Dempsey.

Employment and Rehabilation—William G. Fleming chairman, A. J. Goldman, Harold C. Hunter Robert Armstrong.

Legislation— William J. Caldwell, chairman, Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, Charles H. Young.

Legal Aid—Orville Brown, chairman, Joseph S. W. Smith, Charles Matthews, Jr.

Executive Committee—Harry M. Long, Ivor V. Davis, Pat. J. Dempsey, Ed. E. Marshall, Ed. C. Hoye, Wilbur McCullough, William Fleming, William Ferver, W. Walter Braham, Ray C. Lutz, Bart Richards, Guy J. Wadlinger.

Special Committees

Boy Scouts—Earl Sowers, chairman, Addison A. Carruthers, Rogner Benson.

Membership—Ivor Davis, Chairman.

Publicity Committee—Bart Richards, chairman, Charles E. Allen, Harold C. Hunter.

Social Committee—Pat. J. Dempsey, chairman, William Fleming, DeGraff Robinson, Alfonso Robb, Earl Toler.

Entertainment Committee—Ed. Russell, chairman, Paul Welch, Emrys Davis, Speer Marousis Bob Taylor.

Dance Committee—Bart Richards, chairman, W. Walter Braham, Wilbur McCullough.

NOT A SECOND "RED" GRANGE

But Just Himself, Trying To Play His Best Football

By NORMAN E. BROWN

For some months the world has been hearing of the new "Red" Grange of the Illinois U. football team—the man who is destined to succeed the Phantom as star of the Illini.

This man is Forrest Peters, backfield member of the team.

Now "Frosty," as he's called about the campus, is a good football player. Wouldn't be stretching the truth to call him a near-great player. But hanging upon him the title of "Second Red Grange" has placed him under a terrific handicap and may hurt him.

Peters himself doesn't think of himself in terms of Grange. He is trying only to play the caliber of football that won him a rep as a freshman at Montana U. and drew attention to him at Illinois before the departure of "Red," or (it might be said) in spite of the presence of "Red." If he continues to play that type of game this year Coach Zuppke and his Illini hosts will be satisfied.

Peters had set a world's record for field goals in a single game before the end of his first year at Montana. In one contest he booted a total of 17. He brought that accurate toe along to the University of Illinois. Just the other day, in the game against Coe, Frosty booted three over the goal posts. All three were points after touchdowns. One of them was sent over the bars after Peters had been forced to leap into the air to grab a poor pass. A fourth goal was missed by a narrow margin after Peters had scooped a second poor pass off the ground where it was bouncing merrily along.

His main asset in kicking is his perfect poise and calm. He seems to be oblivious to the fact that a lineman may block his efforts.

This is Frosty's first year as a regular—his first year in football of the caliber usually presented by the Big Ten teams. He may find the going rough—especially if the Illinois line fails to give him adequate defense. To date, however, the line appears not only a powerful defensive one but has shown great offensive strength, which means much to a backfield.

Illinois would like another "Red" Grange. They'll be content, however, if Frosty lives up to expectations—the form he exhibited last season and has to date.

GROCERY TRUCK IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

A truck of the New Castle Grocery company was this morning damaged to the extent of $75 by fire, while in front of the place of business of the company on Produce street.

The gasoline tank had been filled too full and gasoline dripping from it onto the exhaust pipe ignited and caused the fire. The alarm was turned in from box 42 at 7:30 a. m.

Hazel Brown, reported as missing from her home since September 23, has been located just outside of Beaver Falls, according to the report at the police station. Mrs. Minnie McKibben, city policewoman, went to that place this morning to get her.

Give Instructions To Grand Jury In Hall-Mills Case

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Oct. 16.—Members of the Somerset County Grand jury met today to receive special instructions from Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker, in relation to methods of procedure to be followed against persons accused as accessories after the fact in the Hall-Mills murder case.

Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson also planned to seek today a "struck jury" panel of sixty names, from which will be drawn the jurors to hear evidence at the trial of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her two brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens, who, with their cousin, Henry Carpender, are under indictment for the double killing.

Archdeacon Honor Guest

Archdeacon M. S. Kanaga of the Episcopal diocese of Erie was the guest of honor last evening at a dinner held in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church in connection with the rector, members of the vestry and William B. Howe. All members of the vestry were in attendance. The dinner was held at 6:30 o'clock and was followed by a conference in which the life and work of the church from a business standpoint was considered. Archdeacon Kanaga was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William B. Howe of Winter avenue during his stay in the city.

Summon Two For Senate Hearing

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—F. Scott McBride, national superintendent, and Dr. George B. Safford, Illinois superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, have been summoned to appear before the United States Senate investigating committee when it convenes in the federal building here Monday, it was learned today.

The committee, headed by Senator James Reed of Missouri, will concentrate its inquiry upon the political activities of the league and kindred organizations, it was said.

PONTIAC SIX

LANDAU SEDAN

Body by Fisher

Each Day New Proof of Pontiac Six Supremacy

Now rapidly approaching the 75,000 mark, Pontiac Six production incontestably proves that there was a demand for a low-priced six of high quality—and that the Pontiac Six meets that demand like no other car in the world!

In all the thirty-one years of automotive history, the greatest first full year's production ever attained by any new make of automobile did not exceed thirty-three thousand cars. Yet the Pontiac Six, introduced only nine months ago, has already more than doubled that figure.

This impressive achievement is based not only on the brilliant beauty and spacious comfort that the Pontiac Six offers at so low a price, but also on the stamina, ruggedness and thrilling performance which stamp it a triumph of quality car design and construction.

Pontiac Six, Sedan or Coupe, $825. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six — $1025 to $1295. All prices at Factory. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

A NEW Instrument Board and Greater Front Compartment Convenience

One of the many outstanding advantages offered by the new Nash models is found in the arrangement and appointments of the roomy front compartment.

There is an attractive new instrument board with all instruments compactly assembled in a single panel under glass, indirectly lighted.

Further forethought for the driver is shown in the way Nash has located the lever control of the new double-beam headlights on the steering wheel at your finger tips.

Come and see the new Nash models and examine their numerous other new features.

New Nash Attractions

- 7-bearing crankshaft motor—world's smoothest type—powers all new Nash models.
- New-type crankcase "breather" which prevents crankcase dilution.
- Rubber Insulated motor supports—(standard Nash practice for some time).
- Motor heat control by new thermostatic water regulator.
- Oil screen "agitator" preventing oil coagulation in coldest weather.
- And many other new improvements.

Browning Spends Quiet Birthday

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Edward W. Browning, wealthy "Cinderella Man", is fifty-two years old today and he spent a "miserable birthday"—miserable, he said, because his sixteen-year-old bride, "Peaches", still refuses to come back to him.

Browning and "Peaches" had a secret meeting, the first since she went back to "Mama". He asked her to come back to him, but she just wouldn't. So they parted again.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

By McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The "Star of the West."

WHILE SOUTH CAROLINA GREW MORE INSISTENT IN HER DEMANDS THAT THE GOVERNMENT EVACUATE FORT SUMTER AND MAJOR ANDERSON REMAINED FIRM IN HIS DETERMINATION TO DEFEND THE POST, BOTH SIDES HESITATED TO STRIKE THE BLOW WHICH SHOULD USHER IN A LONG AND BITTER WAR.

IN JANUARY, 1861, SPURRED BY PRESSURE IN THE NORTH, PRESIDENT BUCHANAN MADE A HALF-HEARTED ATTEMPT TO RE-ENFORCE MAJOR ANDERSON IN FORT SUMTER. IN THAT MONTH, THE "STAR OF THE WEST," A MERCHANT STEAMER, SET OUT FOR CHARLESTON CARRYING SUPPLIES AND TWO HUNDRED UNITED STATES SOLDIERS.

WHEN THE "STAR OF THE WEST" ENTERED CHARLESTON HARBOR AND TRIED TO APPROACH FORT SUMTER SHE WAS FIRED UPON BY ONE OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA BATTERIES ON MORRIS ISLAND AND FORCED TO TURN BACK.

MAJOR ANDERSON COULD HAVE SILENCED THE STATE BATTERY BUT WITHHELD HIS FIRE AS HE HAD ORDERS TO AVOID ANY ACT THAT MIGHT PRECIPITATE HOSTILITIES. HAVING FAILED TO REACH SUMTER, THE ADMINISTRATION RESUMED ITS POLICY OF INACTION.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS,
International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Still staggering from the effects of Friday's violent decline, which carried down the average prices of representative stocks nearly three points, the stock market today continued erratic and reactionary.

Encouraged by the week-end reports of a declining tendency in some of the important departments of business, the professionals working for lower price levels offered stocks liberally, as the result of which General Motors declined an additional two and a half points and United States Steel broke through another "resistance point" to sell at 137⅝. There were reports of the further uncovering of stop loss orders, and the forced selling of stocks in accounts which had not responded to the calls for margins.

Selling pressure on the high priced speculative leaders continued without let up in the second hour. The motor stocks continued reactionary, with Moon, Jordan, Willys Overland and other of the cheap motor shares declining to new low levels. Jordan at 15 represented a decline of fifty one points from its high of 66 reached earlier in the year, while Hudson at 47, was down about seventy points. General Motors showed better resistance around 145, and Studebaker at 52.

Selling of the rails was in small volume, except in a few of the high prices issues which have been the leaders in the recent rallies in that section of the market. Atlantic Coast Line lost three points, Chesapeake and Ohio 2½, and Nickel Plate 2. The oils were also fairly steady, though Skelly lost more than a point at 30¼, and the Pan Americans were slightly reactionary.

LENINGRAD, Oct. 16.—Galloping through the streets of the village and attacking savagely every living creature in sight, a herd of cows, infected with rabies after being bitten by a mad dog, kept by the inhabitants of the Leningrad suburb Lesnoi in a panic for twenty-four hours.

Militia corralled the mad bovines and sent for officials from the Veterinary Institute in Leningrad.

Professor Konge, rector of the Institute, and his assistants, Dr. Izmailoz and Dr. Chmelnitzki, responding to the call, incautiously approached the cows and were bitten badly. The doctors returned to Leningrad for treatment and ordered the cows shot.

Stock Market Is Reactionary

Railroad Stocks Maintain High Standing Throughout Hectic Week Of Trading

MOTOR STOCKS DISPLAY BREAK

By W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—With the exception of a few of the well known railroad stocks, which reached the best levels of the year in spirited trading near the end of the week, stocks were reactionary and erratic this week, with professional traders generally arrayed on the short side.

Indications of a pronounced expansion of American business were not as numerous this week as in the two preceding weeks, and apparent justification was therefore given the persistent selling of industrial stocks which has been in progress since the first part of October. The steel trade reviews reported a falling off in the demand for automobile steel, which is nothing more than seasonal contraction of some of the big plants, though contrary to the glowing forecasts made by some of the automobile manufacturers a month ago. Automobile experts look for the elimination of a few more of the financially weak manufacturers, with increasing business for the strong concerns.

Money market developments were quite favorable, indicating a larger use of bank credit facilities by the representative industrial organizations throughout the country.

The reserve banks' reserve ratio was practically unchanged, while that of the New York institution declined from 81.5 to 77.2. No changes made in rediscount rates. Commodity markets were generally steady, with cotton recovering nearly a cent a pound on reports of constructive support for the market by the government and the southern banking interests.

Motor Stocks Break.

While short soiling by the professionals was perhaps the most important factor in the decline of prices this week, the brokerage houses reported the industrial stocks, the uncovering of stop-loss orders and the wiping out of thinly margined accounts. Aggressive bidding by the professionals on Thursday accounted for the most pronounced rally in a week or more, but the break in motor stocks on Friday more than wiped out the effect of the rally.

Strength in the railroad stocks was due to reports that the Nickle Plate revised merger plans, now about to be made public, would contain very liberal terms for the Chesapeake & Ohio, Erie and Pere Marquette. Chesapeake & Ohio raced up 10 points on Thursday and was able to hold more than half that advance in the face of a sharp decline in the industrials.

On the whole the events of the week in the stock market were unimportant, except to those whose interests are directly tied up with the market prices of speculative stocks. The fall trade has not yet clearly mapped out its course, and indecision is to be looked for at this time of year in the stock market.

Two Automobiles Stolen Last Night

Two more automobiles were reported to the police last night as having been stolen from the streets of this city. They were still listed as missing this afternoon.

M. C. Limber 1103 Wilmington avenue, reported that he had his Chevrolet touring car, 1925 model Pensylvania license 330-399 parked on North Mercer street in front of Dr. C. A. Reed's office between 7:15 and 9:30 p. m. and when he went to get it he found it gone.

Mont Black of R. D. No. 5, reported that he had his Ford roadster 1923 model, Pennsylvania license 921-994 parked in front of the First U. P. church on North Jefferson street between 8:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. and when he went to get it found it missing.

Will Take Part In Sunday Mass Meeting

APOLLO CLUB OF NEW CASTLE

MARIE SNYDER

One of the features of the mass meeting in the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon, October 17, will be the appearance of the Apollo club, a male glee club of 25 voices.

The Apollo club is known to every music lover in New Castle. Organized in 1912 it has continued year after year, presenting concerts of merit in surrounding cities, and helping to uphold the standard of music in New Castle.

The club has always been under the direction of Richard E. Johns, who is also choir director of the First Christian church. Mr. Johns was one of the founders of the club and has directed it each season since 1912. Miss Marie L. Snyder, organist of the First Christian church is the accompanist of the club.

The club will sing several numbers Sunday afternoon, among them Shelley's "Hark, Hark, My Soul," Protheroe's arrangement of "The Sweet Bye and Bye" and arrangements of well known gospel songs.

It is because the Apollo club is interested in the welfare of the New Castle City Rescue Mission that it is appearing Sunday afternoon. The men of the club believe in the work of the Mission and in the work of Superintendent E. J. Berquist and willingly agreed to help along with the mass meeting in the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

As an unusual feature of the musical program Sunday afternoon, Sammy Dennis, New Castle's "Boy Soprano" will sing several numbers. Sammy is an unusual sort of a youngster and his singing will add to the music of the afternoon.

Approve Work Of Needlework Guild

The Needlework Guild has received very gratifying expressions of appreciation from a number of organizations to which their garments have been distributed. The following letters are from social agencies which do not make their public appeal for funds through the Community Chest.

"MY DEAR MISS WILSON:

From the many years the writer has been engaged in carrying on with the Children's Aid Society, the Mothers' Assistance Fund and other like charity work, have been brought in touch with the good work accomplished by the Needlework Guild and am hoping that this organization will continue its much needed help in our community. Any one acquainted with the conditions in our city and county will surely regret the day when there is a letting down of this and other like institutions.

It is strange to one who has been familiar with the things accomplished by the Needlework Guild to think there are some who believe it should be dispensed with. Any one who has been informed of the work will be much disappointed if it is ever discontinued.

Yours very sincerely,
AMELIA C. MORNES."

The letter from the Rhodes Mission says: "Would like to say that we all approve of it and would like to see it carried on. We feel that it has done a wonderful work and reaches folks who could not be reached by the Community Chest. We, the Rhodes Mission, do greatly appreciate the garments and other things that have come through the Needlework Guild and gone into the different homes where they were needed and greatly enjoyed.

(Signed,) GOLDY I. BLAINE."

"MY DEAR MISS WILSON:—

. . . . I can't see why any question should arise about the usefulness, and the wonderful service of the Needlework Guild, that this district here renders. To me it is in a class by itself; different from any other organization.

Every fall they supply a great amount of new garments of various kinds; these are distributed, if I understand it correctly, to various organizations by the Needlework Guild. The blessing that this kind of service has proved to be to many poor mothers and children, who have received garments from this organization, which have kept them warm and helped them over the winter months; we know personally that many of them would just have had pretty hard sledding to have made ends meet; and I am confident that this kind of work is just as much needed as ever.

I know it would be quite a loss not to receive the co-operation from the Needlework Guild in our work. My own personal opinion is that the Needlework Guild should continue its work and conditions may sometimes warrant a great need of this work in supplying clothing and garments to the unfortunate. I am,

Yours very truly,
E. J. BERQUIST,
Superintendent of the City Rescue Mission."

French Delay Debt Agreement

French Government Not To Seek Ratification Till Next February

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The French government will not ask for ratification of the British and American debt settlements before February, it was learned authoritatively today.

The delay has been decided upon in the hope that the November elections in the United States and the French senatorial elections in January may change the situation.

The government, it is learned, has made a canvas of the situation and found that there is little chance of the present Parliament ratifying the agreements.

Mrs. Jean Nash Is Wedded Again

World's Best Dressed Woman Takes Fourth Husband And Says It Is For Love

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Jean Nash, known along the fashionable Riviera as the "world's best dressed woman", today was starting her fourth honeymoon, having become the wife of Paul DuBonnet, millionaire liquer manufacturer of Paris. They were married by a quiet civil ceremony yesterday, only two witnesses being present.

Although she has had three previous husbands, an American, an Englishman and an Egyptian, Mrs. Nash, leaving the town hall on the arm of her new French husband, declared:

"I have never known love until now."

DuBonnet was divorced on Wednesday from his first wife.

The great criminal lawyer wept. "My client's wife had a diamond ring", said he, "and he held it out on me."

Pressing Important In Master Dry Cleaning

The clothes that are taking a dry cleaning trip through the Smith Master Cleaning works have been thoroughly cleaned; the spots have been taken off and they are almost ready for the final attention. After the spotting is done every garment, after inspection if anything is found necessary, is sent to the tailoring department. If there is a button missing it is replaced, if there is a rip it is sewed up; if there is a tear it is neatly repaired. All this service is done free of charge and is not only important but is essential to first-class work. In the tailoring department relining of coats is done a specialty being made of fur lined coats, but this is extra service for which a very nominal charge is made.

After the necessary tailoring work is done the clothes go to the pressing department. This is under the direction of a competent and expert presser and every garment is thoroughly pressed. Special pressers turn the collars and press the sleeves, and the deep pile fabrics that make up women's garments are steamed from the bottom to restore the depth of pile and make them look like new. This is a special operation that only a few dry cleaners can give, and it is a free service at the Smith Master Dry Cleaning works. It is one of the latest advancements in master cleaning made necessary by the great number of deep pile garments that are worn.

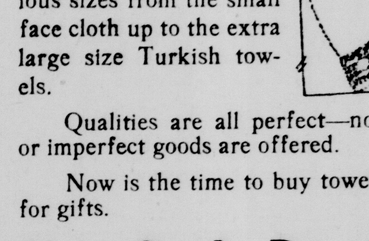

Now with the pressing done there is still several important operations before the service is complete. Before a garment is placed in a dustproof sack for delivery, it is thoroughly inspected—in fact the closest inspection of all is given it to see that the cleaning is thoroughly done; that spots are removed, that buttons are replaced, that no rips or tears have been missed and that the pressing is done right. Then the garments are sacked and made ready for delivery.

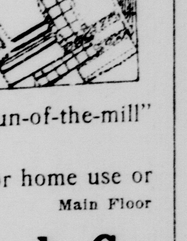

If you want your clothes to have this careful and minute attention, call 885 for a Smith Service man and he will stop. Every garment is insured, and you are guaranteed the highest-class of dry cleaning work.

Would You Live to be a Hundred?

The poet wrote, "I would not live always." Of course not. He couldn't. Death is just as natural as life. But you would like to live to a ripe old age, wouldn't you? And a hundred good, strong, happy years are not too many, are they?

Well, your chances for living a hundred years or more grow better all the time. Ten years ago, so says the United States Bureau of Census, there were three thousand century-old men and women living in this country. Now there are more than four thousand—A gain of over one thousand in ten short years.

But that isn't all. There is a great increase in the number of folks who are living in their nineties. When our fathers were boys a man was considered old at forty; now he is young at fifty.

Men and women are living longer and better. Soon century birthdays will be the common thing.

There are three reasons for our lengthened years. They are sanitation, ventilation, radiation. Or, put into plainer words, they are plumbing, heating and ventilated, the well plumbed, well ventilated, well heated home, office and factory — the place where we live and work — give us longer and more useful lives because they give us cleanliness, pure air and even temperature. And these give us better health, more energy, quiet nerves, less worry, sound sleep, which spell longer life.

We specialize in Modern and Sanitary Installations.
